ICE MAN REVEALED AS THE CONFIDANT OF RICH WIDOW

Purported Copy of Will Written by Mrs. Margaret
B. Hedges, Boarding House Recluse, Found.

SHE LEFT AN ESTATE VALUED AT $112,935

William Jeff, the Ice Man, Trying to Find Original $10,000 Bequeathed to
"Friend William."

A purported copy of a will written in 1922 by Mrs. Margaret B. Hedges, aged 82, and missing since her death last Aug. 1, has turned up. She had one confidant on earth, it seems—William Jeff of 2901 Ruiter street, who became her friend 25 years ago when he was an ice man and she one of her customers.

Through information supplied by Jeff, who was her business aid and advisor during the later years, an effort is being made by the Mercantile Trust Co. and Henry A. Baker, an attorney, to substantiate the copy as the original testament. An estate of $112,935 is in the hands of Public Administrator Hampe, pending outcome of the inquiry.

Terms of Supposed Duplicate.
Under the terms of the supposed duplicate which Mrs. Hedges sent to Jeff for reference, she left $15,000 for a monument to be placed over her grave and that of her husband, Isaac Hedges, which are side by side in Bellefontaine cemetery. She bequeathed $10,000 to "My dear friend, William" and the remainder of the estate was to be divided equally among her husband's heirs and her own.

The relatives—three sisters and two brothers of her husband, living in Missouri and Illinois towns, and nephews and nieces of Mrs. Hedges in Ohio and Pennsylvania—can give little assistance in clearing the situation. Mrs. Hedges avoided them since her death in 1921. She became a boarding-house widow in St. Louis—moving from place to place and turning her small capital to business with a success no one suspected.

At the Public Administrator's office yesterday it was said that the copy of the will submitted by Jeff was not certified and would have no legal weight as it is. One of the witnesses to the original, Jeff says, was Miss Elizabeth Nicholson, who was burned to death in a fire at her home here a year ago. The other witness, a Mrs. Mary Craig, has not been located. Jeff has traced her through various Illinois towns, finally receiving word that she was ill at a hospital in St. Louis.

Jeff Also Has Letter.
However, Jeff possesses the following letter in Mrs. Hedges' handwriting and dated a few months before her death:

Dear Friend William:
The obligations as follow are for you to carry out absolutely in case of death or accident. Notify the Booths and Hedges first above all things—do not let anything fear from them. Get Nellie and Mrs. Gaertner to help as they are the only friends outside of you, William.

You know about the dress, basket and flowers I would like to have. I wish to be buried from Wagoner's chapel. About the monument—funds you will find that I have left an ample amount for this work.

William, you have been more than good to me. All through my hard battles I have entrusted to you all my secret business, also the secrecy of my life and why—and you never have broken your promise to me in all these years nor did you betray me to anybody in my remembrance. May God bless you, William. Don't forget to burn a candle for me, please.

Away When Mrs. Hedges died in her little room at 4318 Olive street, at the age of 77. Jeff was away working at his trade of marble fitting. Mrs. Nellie Hedges, referred to in the letter, had moved to Buffalo, Wyo. Mrs. Emma Gaertner of 5013 Beacon street was the only one of her three trusted friends to attend the funeral.

The story of this quaint little woman's life is better known since William Jeff came forward with his notebooks and papers and recollections. Friends knew she had idolized Isaac Hedges. He was a school teacher here and became principal of Pope School several years before her death. She taught in the school before her marriage, and after her husband died went back to teaching. Acquaintances noted there was no heart in her; that everything seemed to have turned gray to her. She withdrew from people and

PRIVATE 'NO PARKING' SIGNS DECLARED TO BE ILLEGAL

Assistant City Counselor Dismisses Case Against Man Arrested for Disregarding Such Notice.

"Do Not Park Between These Posts" signs, bearing the notice that they are by order of the Director of Streets and Sewers, today were held to be illegal by Assistant City Counselor Gayer.

Gayer dismissed a Police Court case against Albert Blisch of 3812 Madison avenue, who was arrested Nov. 9 for parking between such posts in front of 1125 Olive street. There are many of the sign posts in the downtown business section, as well as in outlying commercial districts, erected with the consent of Director Fisk of the Department of Streets and Sewers, by business concerns which desire to keep open the space in front of their stores. Gayer said there was no authority of law which he could find for the Street Department to grant authority to anyone to restrict parking space.

"I am satisfied that if fines were assessed in such cases," he said, "the higher courts would rule the signs were illegal. I could see no reason to recommend a fine in a case in which I could see no violation of law."

LILLIAN RUSSELL'S JEWELS NOT WORTH AS MUCH AS ESTIMATED

Estate of $63,000 Not Sufficient to Pay Daughter $50 a Week.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 16.—A revised inventory of the estate of Lillian Russell Moore, the famous actress, who, before her death in 1921, had become the wife of Alexander P. Moore, now American Ambassador in Spain, filed today disclosed that the estate amounted to only $63,000, and was not sufficient to provide an income of $50 a week for her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy O'Reilly, after inheritance taxes had been met. By an arrangement with the executors, however, Mrs. O'Reilly is to receive the income provided under the will. The shrinkage was in the amount realized from the sale of jewelry.

ANYWAY SOMEBODY'S LIFE WAS SAVED

Police Uncertain as to Whether It Was "Spot" Regan's or a Negro's.

The consciousness of having saved a life cheered Lieut. Gunn and members of a night police squad, when they went off duty after daylight today. There was some uncertainty, however, as to whose life they had saved.

Clarence Porter, a negro chauffeur, whom they arrested at 2:30 a. m. near Twenty-second and Olive streets, proclaimed loudly that he had saved the life of "Spot" Regan, his former employer. When taken into custody, Porter was carrying a revolver in his hand, and he announced without reserve that he was on his way to the office of "Spot" Regan, night manager of the Green Talcab Co., at 2224 Olive, then and there to slay the said "Spot."

"Spot," who signs his name to police bonds as John J. Regan, and whose acquaintance with the police is not limited to his occasional activity as a bondman, was fully willing to credit the policemen with having saved a life. But he said it was not his life that they had saved.

"It's a good thing the police got you first," he said, glowering at the negro, after the policemen had taken their prisoner to his office. "I would have 'got' you if they hadn't, if you had come around here with that gun," Regan added.

The negro, who cannot be charged with carrying concealed weapons, was held on a charge of brandishing a deadly weapon, also on suspicion of having stolen the revolver. Regan had discharged him, after a quarrel over cash returns from the car which he had been driving.

Caruso Royalty in 2 Years $585,727.

By the Associated Press.
TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 16.—The estate of Enrico Caruso, opera singer, who died in August, 1921, was enriched $585,727 in 1921 and 1922 by royalties from the sale of records he made for the Victor Talking Machine Co. It was learned today when his widow asked in the chancery court that the Victor company be entrusted with the payment of the royalties to the various heirs.

AUTO DRIVER SHOT TO DEATH BY MEN RIDING WITH HIM

Leonard Catanzaro, 25, Found Crumpled Over Steering Wheel, 10 Bullet Wounds in Body.

KILLING LAID TO BOOTLEGGERS FEUD

Twenty-Four Pints of Whisky in Machine—Victim Not Robbed by Slayers, Who Escape.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Catanzaro, 5515 Easton avenue, ate supper last night with Mrs. Catanzaro's parents at 1908 Tenth street, and, after the meal, along toward 7 o'clock, Catanzaro kissed his wife and drove away, saying he would be back in 20 minutes.

Half an hour later persons living around Evans and Prairie avenues, heard a number of shots, fired in quick succession, and saw two men jump from an automobile, which had come to a stop in the middle of Prairie avenue, facing south, at Evans avenue. The men ran east on the south side of Evans avenue.

When the police arrived they found Catanzaro, who was 25 years old, crumpled over the steering wheel, dead, with 10 bullet wounds in his head and body.

Laid to Bootleggers' Feud.

From the fact that he was not robbed and that 24 pints of whisky were found in the machine, members of the police homicide squad conclude he was killed in a bootleggers' dispute.

A circumstance reported to the police causes expectation that there will be private vengeance. Three men, who looked like Italians, are said to have visited the morgue early this morning to view the body, and one drew a revolver and pointed it to his lips in apparent registering of a vow.

Catanzaro was associated with his father, Samuel, in the fruit business at 219 Samuels street. He left the store at 3 p. m. his father stated, to make collections. His wife was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antonia Lombardo, so there he went for supper. When he left there he did not say where he was going.

About 7:15 Catanzaro and two other men were at Dennis Dowling's saloon, 3801 Easton avenue. Dowling says two first entered and one of them bought two cigars. A third then entered and bought three cigars. He denies he knew them.

They went out and climbed into the machine, Helen Hall, 1323A North Vandeventer avenue, and Helen Tarrant, 3708 Cook avenue, say they drove south in Prairie avenue, then came the shot and Mrs. Catanzaro's scream. She saw two men run east. The latter says that one of them stopped in the middle of the block and called to the other, who was lagging behind: "Oh, George, come on."

Story of Witnesses.

Mrs. Bosten said today she was sitting in her living room; the second from the front, when she heard five shots. She went to the front room and heard loud, angry talking, but could not distinguish words. Then there was a crash of glass. She lifted a window shade and saw a machine standing in front of the house and a man running diagonally toward the south side of Evans avenue.

Mrs. Mary Feasenden, 3753 Evans avenue, heard three shots and from her front window saw two men run east past her house. One was 15 or 20 feet ahead of the other. He stopped and called to the other: "Come on. Leave the car. Let's beat it."

Fired On From Rear.

Members of the homicide squad, when they examined Catanzaro's body, concluded the two bullets which struck him in the left side of the face and the one that entered the right side of his neck were fired by two men who had been sitting in the rear seat, and that then they pressed their weapons against his abdomen and fired seven bullets into him to make their work sure.

The windshield was shattered by bullets, probably the ones which passed through his body. Two bullets were found in the car, one on the floor and one on the front seat.

Catanzaro had $195.95 in his pockets and a gold watch and fob and a gold ring. The liquor found in the machine was marked "for medicinal purposes."

Commander of the Disabled Veterans Attacks Manner in Which Evidence at Inquiry Has Been Offered.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The sharp plow share of the Senate Veterans' Committee, driven forward again today through the affairs of former Director Charles R. Forbes, turned up another collection of charges, denials and counter charges.

With Forbes on the stand, under cross examination, the inquiry traversed a wide field of subjects, ranging from hospital contracts to alleged drinking parties and pleasure trips. The former director continued to deny generally and specifically the accusations of misconduct that have been made against him.

The code which Elias H. Mortimer testified was arranged for the use of certain contracting firms and some members of the Veterans' Bureau, figured largely today in the cross examination.

Forbes reiterated his denial of any knowledge of any such code, which Mortimer said was arranged during the Pacific Coast trip of Forbes and his party in the summer of 1922, for the use of C. B. Hurley of the Hurley-Mason Co., Tacoma; J. W. Black of the Black-Thompson Co., Chicago, and others.

Denies Sending Code Messages.
Hurley's name in the code, according to Mortimer, was "Hyder." Gen. John F. O'Ryan, general counsel for the committee, read a telegram sent from Tacoma, July 25, 1922, and signed "Hyder." As translated it read as follows:

"Wish to leave for Alaska thirtieth. Return about tenth. Will abscond. Interfere. Ask Forbes." Denying that he ever sent any messages to Hurley in code, Forbes said all the messages that went out from him were signed by "Charles R. Forbes" and "were in the clear."

Denying that he could offer no explanation if copies of his communications to Hurley are not in the Bureau files.

"Pickles" for Forbes' Secretary.
"Did you ever send Hurley any message through 'Pickles'?" asked O'Ryan.

"Pickles" was the name Forbes' secretary, M. L. Sweet, was given in the alleged code.

The former director said the first he had heard of such a designation for Sweet was during the committee hearings.

O'Ryan read a letter signed "Hyder" and addressed to "Moxie." It was supposed to be Mortimer's code. It was under date of September, 1922, and asked if "Moxie" could not give the writer some idea as to when "the projects we talked about will be ready to figure."

The letter added that "Moxie" alleged to have been the code name for Mason, had left Tacoma to take his son to Yale.

"No doubt he will be in Washington around the end of the month," the letter added, "and no doubt he will call on 'McAdoo'."

PLAN FOR RUHR INQUIRY THREATENED

British Member of Repara-

Head Off Plan for Expert Committee.

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON.
London Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

(Copyright, 1923, by the Press and Publishing Co., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.)
LONDON, Nov. 15.—The German Government has requested the United States to issue a statement favoring the integrity of the territory of the Reich, on the ground that such a pronouncement will help effect a European settlement such as the United States desires.

A hint has been conveyed to Washington informally that the British would not be displeased if America should accede to Berlin's request. Arguments still continue between London and Paris concerning Premier Poincare's proposed commission of experts. British charges that the French are behind the Rhineland separatist movement and the question of forcing Germany.

Refusal to Interfere.
The British attitude is roughly a refusal to interfere with Germany, although announcement that Britain would not object effectively to the former Kaiser's return is premature. It is probably correct, but it has not been considered officially here.

London is suggesting unofficially that Germany's refusal to guarantee the safety of the Allied Military Control Commission be met by permitting the mission to function in districts where there is no danger of interference.

There is an impression here that Germany is about to ask the Reparations Commission to give its interpretation of Article 18 of the Versailles treaty. The British claim that France violated this article in seizing the Ruhr.

Trying to Head Off Poincare.

Sir John Bradbury, British member of the commission, is trying to head off M. Poincare's attempt to get the commission to appoint a committee of experts to assess Germany's capacity to pay within the next three years.

Sir John threatens to demand that the committee investigate the occupation or to ask to have the question referred to The Hague court. Should Poincare still press the commission idea it is predicted Sir John will resign from the commission.

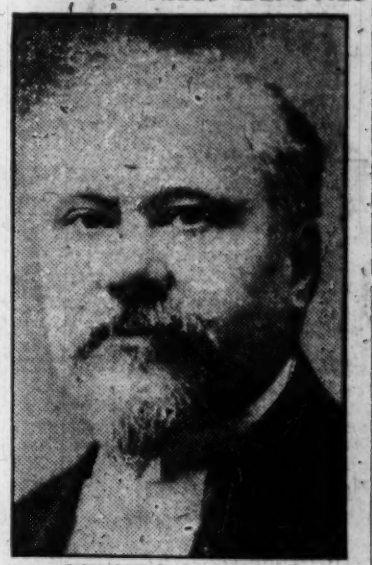

Without enumerating all the current Anglo-French arguments, it can be said the atmosphere between Paris and London was never more bittered than now.

While no important move is likely to be made here pending the British election, the tone of Premier Baldwin's references to France in his Commons speech Thursday night—especially his blaming the British trade crisis and unemployment on the Ruhr occupation—is taken to mean Anglo-French bickering in public are likely to be resumed if Baldwin is returned.

Smuts Warns Action.

Gen. Smuts, Premier of South Africa, on the eve of his return home from the imperial conference, urged an international meeting, with or without France, to settle the reparations question.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.

Gen. Von Seeckt, military dictator of Germany, tonight commanded his subordinates to begin converting Berlin's luxurious night haunts into lodgings for the homeless, restaurants and food kitchens, and bars into bread stations.

The military order was an attempt to deal with the steadily increasing hordes of homeless Germans who wander about the cold streets. So far the order has not been carried out.

MESSANGER BOYS DISCARDING BICYCLES FOR FORD ROADSTERS

Nine Western Union Employees Now Have Machines—Pay Goes Up Accordingly.

The bicycle is going fast even for telegraph messengers. Nine Western Union boys have discarded them for Ford roadsters. If you are a messenger boy and you have a Ford, you get $140 a month. If you are a messenger and you haven't one, you get paid according to the amount of work you can pedal out, which usually averages between $12 and $25 a week.

Two of the messengers have bought their Fords and paid for them while the company's employer. The remainder brought theirs along with them when they started to work for the company a month ago. It is expected the whole fleet will be paid for in full in the next three months. According to the boys' figures, it costs just $40 a month to keep up a messenger's Ford roadster.

"IT IS RUPTURE OF ENTENTE," CRY FRENCH DEPUTIES

Premier, Addressing Chamber, Denies That France Is Responsible for Differences With Great Britain.

"WE HAVE NOT CEASED TO MAKE CONCESSIONS"

Cites British Support of Berlin During Debate on Seizure of Airplanes in Council and Before Jurists.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 16.—Premier Poincare took issue with Prime Minister Baldwin of Great Britain as to who is to blame for the present Franco-British differences when he rose to speak in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon during an interpellation on foreign affairs.

"I cannot let it be said that it is by our fault an agreement has not been reached," Poincare declared. "For several years we have not ceased to make concessions on our rights, and it is not on our side that the attitude is uncompromising."

The Premier said he had not intended to speak, because he could not at this time discuss certain subjects, but the occurrence in the British Parliament yesterday could not be allowed to pass, and must be answered immediately.

The British Premier, Poincare said, had supported the German point of view in the Council of Ambassadors during discussion of the seizure of 12 Franco-British company airplanes in Germany, although the Treaty of Versailles gave the allies most favored nation treatment in commercial aerial matters, and later the British delegate repeated this opposition when the subject was submitted to the jurists.

Cries of "It is a rupture of the entente cordiale!" greeted this description of the British attitude.

The Premier reviewed the reparations question from the beginning and remarked that the British Government on several occasions had approved the occupation of German territories as a perfectly legal penalty and as justified. The French, when taking guarantees and bringing pressure to bear upon Germany, he said, had nothing in mind but to inspire the Germans with a desire to pay reparations.

He quoted the late Adolphe Bonar Law, then British prime minister, as declaring when the occupation of the Ruhr was broached: "You are to seize Germany. Our experts were to estimate the value of the Ruhr up to September, said M. Poincare, had cost $81,000,000 francs; the receipts in cash were $26,000,000 francs, and the Allies had in their possession merchandise not yet sold worth $69,000,000 francs. Thus was shown a net profit on the transaction of something over $55,000,000 francs.

France's Minimum Demand.
All the chambers except the Communists applauded enthusiastically when the Premier repeated that France's minimum demand on her share of reparations was $6,000,000,000 gold marks, and as much more from the class C bonds as the allies might demand on the war debts.

"We do not repudiate our debts," said Poincare, "but we maintain they are in no way comparable to Germany's debt to us. Our experts were for a war waged in the common interest. We did not claim our war expenses from Germany."

"The principle was laid down at the conference that damages to persons and property should have precedence. How, then, can our allies ask us to pay our debts, contracted for war expenses, before Germany has paid for the damage she committed to persons and property?"

OPEN VERDICT IN BOWERS INQUEST; YOUTH RELEASED

"Homicide at Hands of Person Unknown." Is Finding of Jury in Case of Marie Bowers.

ACCOUNT OF HOLDUP REPEATED BY LEVEL

Murder Victim's Fiance Giving Freedom by Police and His Bond of $800 Discharged.

A coroner's jury investigating the murder of Marie Bowers, 16-year-old telephone operator, today returned a verdict of "homicide at the hands of a person unknown."

Clarence Level, 19, the girl's fiance, and the only person who has told of having seen the killing, was released by the police at the end of the inquest, and his bond, given to insure his appearance at the inquest, was discharged by the Circuit Attorney's office. He was in police custody from the time of the killing, Saturday night, until the adjournment of the second session of the inquest, Wednesday, when the $800 bond was accepted for him.

Level only witness at today's session of the inquest, told his story of the killing, which, as previously related, is that an armed negro held him and Marie Bowers up at Twenty-first street and Chouteau avenue, marched them into an alley, at which time a criminal attack on her, and shot her when she resisted.

Detective Sergeant Archey, head of the homicide squad, said in the inquest that the case was as much a mystery to him as it has been. Various lines of inquiry, including one which caused him to ask Wednesday for the continuance of the inquest until today, have yielded nothing thus far. The police will continue to look for a missing negro known as "Beans," who is said to resemble the description given by Level.

Deputy Coroner Reed, in opening the final session of the inquest, asked Archey if he had any further evidence. Archey said he had none, and Level was then called, with the reminder that he was not required to testify unless he wished to. N. C. Whaley, the youth's lawyer, replied that he did wish to testify. "His honor and reputation are at stake," the lawyer said.

Level said he was 18 years old, living on 12 1/2 street, driver for the Union Electric Co., and lived with his parents at 1230 Missouri avenue. He met Marie Bower in May, 1922, first at the Liggett & Myers tobacco factory, where she worked, and later at her home, 1240 South Vandeventer avenue.

Describes Holdup by Negro. — He said they became engaged, and that he took her out in the evening frequently. Last Saturday night, he said, they went to the Casino Hotel, Seventeenth and Market streets, and afterward walked through the Union Station midway and across the Twenty-first street viaduct. He said he suggested the walk because "it was a pleasant night. They stopped at Chouteau avenue to wait for a Manchester car."

They were standing near a building at the northwest corner, laughing and talking, Level said, "and I was standing facing her, with my back to Chouteau avenue, when she exclaimed, 'My God, look what he's got.'"

As she said this I felt a revolver poked against me, and saw a negro, who said, 'Don't say a word, or I'll blow your insides out.'

"That ain't what I want," he said, 'get across the street.' We started across Twenty-first, and Marie offered the negro her purse. I left after your money," he said. "Keep on going," and he steered us into the alley on the east side of Twenty-first. He stopped us at the telephone post, 50 feet east of Twenty-first.

"He told me to sit down, and Marie cried, and said she wouldn't leave me. The negro said, 'have it your own way,' and he steered us along 50 feet farther east. Then he tried to attack Marie. She screamed and broke away from him, and he shot her."

"He ran east in the alley, and when I called to him to stop, he fired a shot in my direction. I carried Marie to Twenty-first street, and called to the driver of an automobile, who wouldn't stop. Then I ran after a street car, and the conductor stopped it, and Police Sergeant Thomas got out."

Appeal to Taxi Driver. — Level told of his appeal to the driver of a passing taxi cab, saying he told the driver, "I'll pay you anything to get her to the hospital." The taxi cab took the dying girl to the city hospital, accompanied by Level and Sergeant Thomas.

Level's lawyer asked him about quarrels between him and the girl, and he said that quarrels frequently occurred between them, and were made up speedily. He said he and Marie kissed as they were near the south end of the viaduct. Two negro witnesses have told of seeing a pair of men scuffling and then kissing. When the discharge of Level by the police and the Circuit Attorney's office was announced, his mother kissed him. He left with his parents.

on the steamer Alexander at Tacoma, was not an "impulsive" act, as Mortimer had testified. He testified that before he left Washington he called at the White House, saw some of the medals on President Harding's desk and suggested that he give them to some of his friends. It was agreed, Forbes said, that the director should give them to friends of the President who had aided in his campaign for the presidency.

Says Mortimer Got Drunk. — "I thought the occasion on Mr. Alexander's ship," he said, "was a good one at which to make the presentation to him." At San Diego Forbes said Mortimer "was drunk and insulted General and Mrs. Terry."

"What was your condition?" asked O'Ryan. "I was as sober then as now." "And Mrs. Mortimer?" "The same."

Forbes said Mortimer was drunk on another occasion soon after the inspection trip you carried this drunk around with you," asked O'Ryan. "He had a little little house at same party and I'd warn him that he would have to leave unless he behaved," the witness said. "He would apologize and say he would not do it again and I believed him."

The inquiry was taken back to the bureau's plant at Perryville Md. "How was he treated?" asked Commander O'Leary in the sale of supplies there?" asked O'Ryan. "Oh, not so heavily."

Commander O'Leary was in charge of the Veterans' Bureau supply division. O'Ryan then renewed his motion of yesterday that he be permitted to inquire into the early life of Forbes, but Chairman Reed reiterated the decision of the committee not to go into the matter, and the examination was finished.

Chairman Reed took up the questioning. "Questioned About Cramer's Death." "Do you know why Charles F. Cramer (former general counsel of the bureau) committed suicide?" "I've heard domestic difficulties; financial difficulties and trouble with oil lands."

"Did you make any investigation of it?" "No." "Did you see the letters he left?" "No, I did not see them."

Asked whether he suspected that Cramer and "taken graft," the witness replied: "The man is dead, Senator."

"I know it," responded the chairman, "but there are a great many service men who are still living who suffered as a result of the maladministration in the bureau, and I don't believe we should omit the name even of the dead to get at the facts."

Forbes then said he appointed Cramer as his general counsel. He had known him only slightly in California before his appointment. Without going into the question further, Forbes was excused and James A. McFarland, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, took the stand. He immediately attacked the manner in which evidence in the investigation had been presented.

ALLEGES $2200 LOSS IN VENICE GAMING RESORT

William Robey, in Suit, Names Two St. Louisans Among Owners of Place.

Ferd Warner and John T. Soy, St. Louis tailors and one-time members of the House of Delegates, are two of the defendants named as proprietors of a gambling resort in Venice, Ill., in a suit filed here today by a St. Louis machinist, who says he lost $2200 in a craps game there.

"Ferd Warner's place" is the designation given, in the suit, to the alleged gambling establishment. The plaintiff, William Robey, says the place is on the east side of Main street, Venice, in a frame building about 200 feet north of the McKinley Bridge. It has no street number, he says, but is distinguishable by means of a large green door.

The door is guarded, the petition says, and persons who are admitted by the guards must pass through a long hallway to another guarded door which proves to be the entrance to a large room where various gambling devices are in operation. The games mentioned are craps, roulette, 21 and blackjack and poker. There is also a bookmaking office, for betting on horse races, it is alleged.

Robey says he began going to the place May 28 last, and that he continued until Aug. 1, his efforts to recover his constantly increasing losses. Illinois law provides that the loser in a gambling establishment may sue for the recovery of money lost. Warner Rannells, attorney for Robey, pleads the Illinois statute as a basis for recovery of the costs of this State. The petition states the Robey has demanded reimbursement, but has received nothing.

Besides Warner and Soy, the defendants are John Walsh, James Carroll, Andrew Fritz and "Duke" Wenzel or Swartz, residents of Illinois.

Attorney Rannells says the gambling resort was temporarily closed while the Madison County grand jury was in session.

Grecian Revolt Chiefs Reprieved. — By the Associated Press. — Instructions have been issued to the Greek military authorities not to execute the sentence of death imposed on the leaders of the recent revolt among the provincial garrisons, according to an agency dispatch from Athens. The reprieve is said to have followed negotiations between the Government and a representative of the Venizelist party.

Boy, Picking Up Coal, Killed by Train. — Special to the Post-Dispatch. — BENTON, Ill., Nov. 16.—Clarence Bailey, 12 years old, was killed here today by an Illinois Central train while picking up coal from the tracks.

tended to prove conclusively the existence of wholesale graft and who was responsible. An admission by Forbes that he employed Mrs. Mortimer's brother as a mechanical engineer in the Veterans' Bureau at $2000 a year, when he had been getting $250 a week as a truck driver in Philadelphia. Forbes' declaration that President Harding insisted an architect for Livermore Hospital be chosen acceptable to the California delegation and that Senator Hiram Johnson was consulted.

A charge by Forbes that he found Mortimer beating Mrs. Mortimer in a Chicago hotel. A declaration by Forbes that Mrs. Carolyn Votaw, sister of the late President Harding and wife of the Superintendent of Prisons, introduced him to J. W. GIRL, HELD CAPTIVE AS SUITOR SLAYS 4, FOUND IN CABIN Compelled to Witness the Killing of Her Parents and Two Other Men, She Is in Doctor's Care.

MINNESOTA POSSES HUNT FOR SLAYER

Quarrel Over Affections of Girl, 15, Ends in Series of Murders in the North Woods.

By the Associated Press. — KELLILHER, Minn., Nov. 16.—While posse men set out to search for the slayer of four persons, after a quarrel over the affections of Miss Myrtle Sanders, 15 years old, the latter lay in a hotel room here today under the care of a physician, prostrated with grief.

No one except her physician was permitted to see the girl, who was dragged along by Portano and forced to witness all the killings. Only in brief lucid intervals has she been able to tell, piecemeal, the details of her day of horror, when, before her untimely death, she saw Portano shoot down her parents and two other men.

Friends with her make no mention of the murders, striving to divert her mind to other things, but broken by her terrifying experience of yesterday, she can think of nothing else.

Portano, after his quarrel with Oscar Timmy over the affections of the girl, went to the Sanders' home, where he was with her mother at the time. Portano had words with the mother—then he shot her dead before Myrtle's eyes.

Dragging the screaming girl, Portano left the house, intercepting her father, whom he shot dead without a word. Then he forced the girl, now almost in a faint and frantic with grief, to accompany him to the point where he ambushed and shot Dr. Stewart Wilson.

Myrtle's mind now was hardly more than a delirium, for only dimly does she remember the slaying of Timmy, who had gone to the Sanders' home when he heard the shots fired, and ended the lives of the girl's parents.

Then, through the heavy woods he dragged her to his cabin, eight miles from the city, where he left her after writing the statement of his crime, which he had written in the cabin and brought her to Kellilher.

M'CRAY ADMITS SIGNING NOTES WITHOUT WRITTEN AUTHORITY

Governor Makes Statement Under Questioning About Visits to His Farm.

By the Associated Press. — INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—Gov. Warren T. McCray, under persistent questioning, admitted that he signed notes in the name of other persons without written authority of those whose names appeared on the paper, when he resumed the witness stand today for the second day of the hearing on the petition of three Port Wayne (Ind.) banks to have him adjudged a bankrupt.

The admission was made by McCray, when he was being examined by W. J. Vesey, chief counsel for the petitioners, with regard to trips to his farm near Kentland, Ind. "Your visit of Aug. 27 last: the purpose, was it not to get affidavits from persons whose names you had signed to notes?" he was asked. "Yes, sir," the Governor replied. "You had no authority before, did you?" "Not written."

The Governor then stated that he obtained an affidavit from Fred Henderson, manager of the Hickory Island Farm, giving the Governor authority to sign his name. McCray, in reply to further questioning, stated that after he became Governor he was "able to secure for his bank (The Discount and Deposit State Bank of Kentland, of which McCray was president until recently) a very considerable amount of State funds." He told of drawing a salary as president of the bank and as vice president of the Savers Grain Co. of Chicago after he became Governor. He said he had tried to resign as president of the bank after its inauguration, but that the directors had demurred.

675 - MILE PADDLE ENDED

Two St. Louisans, Leo Benz and Lester Kuhlbeck, finished a 675-mile paddle from St. Paul, Minn., when they docked their 18-foot canoe at the end of the trip, at Perry street, Thursday.

ST. LOUIS' CHANCES FOR DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION GOOD

Fear Expressed by Party Leaders That Meeting Would Hardly Be Ripple on Surface in New York.

COMMITTEE WANTS IT TO BE BIG SPLASH

First Reaction of Women Against Metropolis Overcoming Some Prospect of Shopping on Fifth Avenue

By CHARLES G. ROSS, Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. — WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—As the cards lie now, St. Louis undoubtedly has good chance to land the Democratic National Convention if it gets actively into the contest, as it started to do yesterday.

The principal contenders to date are San Francisco and New York. Atlanta and Louisville are also vying for the prize and Cleveland may take a hand, if it fails in its present effort to capture the Republican convention.

Decision will be made by the Democratic National Committee at its Washington meeting either in mid-December or the early part of January.

Fear As to New York. — The earnest effort which New York interests, led by the New York World, are making on behalf of the metropolis has not yet succeeded in convincing the party managers that it would be desirable to send the convention there. The fear is expressed that New York, accustomed as it is to the daily influx of thousands of visitors, would engulf the gathering to such an extent that it would leave hardly a ripple on the surface of metropolitan life.

The National Committee, naturally, wants the convention, for advertising purposes, to be the great outstanding event in the convention city. Not merely a ripple, but a big splash, is desired.

New York's chances are hurt also by the apprehension that Tammany might dominate a meeting in that city, or at any rate, that an unfavorable impression of Tammany domination might get abroad to the detriment of party chances.

Attitude of Democratic Women. — The first reaction of women on the committee was against New York, though it is being said now that the prospect of shopping on Fifth avenue is proving an effective lure in some cases. However that may be, New York is going ahead with a goal of $250,000 to be raised to pay the convention expenses. Will Hays and other prominent Republicans as well as Democrats, are pushing the movement.

San Francisco is hot after both national conventions. It is ready again with a certified check for $125,000 to pay the expenses of either.

Nothing talks before a National Committee like a certified check, as was shown when the West Coast city ran away with the 1920 Democratic convention by flashing a check for $125,000. San Francisco's chances for the 1924 meeting are diminished by the fact that it had the convention last time, and also there is distance opposition because of its long distance from the center of population.

San Francisco's strong cards are the excellence of the entertainment facilities of hotel and restaurant, and the fact that it has a fine impression on all convention visitors.

Feeling for Mid-West City. — Owing to the drawbacks in the case of both the coast contenders, there is an unmistakable feeling in both the Cox and McAdoo wings of the party that the convention is waiting to drop into the lap of some Middle Western city.

No reason is now apparent why this city should not be St. Louis. If the city wishes to make its claim effective it should of course demonstrate its willingness to underwrite expenses. These amounted in 1920 to about $140,000. The committee taking care of the $15,000 above the city's donation.

St. Louis should also put before the committee a statement of its hotel facilities and a plan for the entertainment of the convention. It should show that it has a convention hall suited to the gathering and should stress the ease with which it can be reached from any part of the country, in addition to pointing out the political advantages of holding the convention in Missouri.

Chicago Hotel Keepers Promise to Be Reasonable

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 20-23 Wyatt Building.

C HICAGO seems likely to capture the Republican national convention for the sixth successive time despite complaints about high hotel rates and despite the energetic campaign of Cleveland.

Five members of the Republican National Committee, forming a subcommittee to hear all invitations, listened yesterday to the pleas of Cleveland, Des Moines, San Francisco and Chicago, and will report the facts gathered, without recommendations to the full national committee Dec. 11.

Treasurer Fred W. Upham of the Republican organization filed signed price lists from the Chicago hotels, which promised in effect, to be reasonable hereafter, and which were marked in the street after the hearing that the Republicans will adhere to the Chicago tradition.

Chamber of Commerce to Help in Effort to Get Convention. — The Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, this afternoon gave its approval of the movement to get the 1924 Democratic National convention for St. Louis and joined in the arrangements by creating an arrangements committee of the presidents of 11 organizations.

It was announced by Secretary Hatfield of the Conventions and Publicity Bureau that letters would be sent later in the day to each of these men, calling them to meet next Tuesday, and to be prepared then with the names of others who would be substantial members of a larger working committee which will solicit the $100,000, which Chairman Correll of the Democratic National Committee has announced will be the minimum amount the committee will consider from any city desiring the convention.

Members of the committee, of which Mayor Kiel will be honorary chairman, are: H. W. Geller, Conventions and Publicity Bureau; W. Palmer Clarkson, Chamber of Commerce; T. H. Glancy, Hotel Men's Association; Mortimer May, Associated Retailers; W. J. Edwards, Merchants Exchange; O. J. McCawley, Real Estate Exchange; Carl F. G. Meyer, Advertising Club; James E. Smith, Mississippi Valley Association; H. D. Cone, Railway Club; and A. J. Davis, Manufacturers and Merchants Association. The Associated Industries also will be represented. Its president, Conrad H. Mann, resides in Kansas City.

The resolution was presented to the Chamber of Commerce by Hatfield, who announced that the Hotel Men's Association and the Associated Industries had pledged approximately one-third of the necessary amount.

Plans for soliciting the convention have been quietly under way for several months, Hatfield having been in touch with members of the National Committee. The first public step was taken yesterday, at a luncheon at Hotel Jefferson when Hatfield reported he had received considerable encouragement from members of the National Committee, who expressed the opinion the convention should be in a mid-western city.

He read a telegram from Chairman Hull stating that the successful city must pledge at least $100,000, and that the claims of all cities would receive fair consideration.

Hatfield said there were in prospect at least 17 candidates for the Democratic nomination for President, which would virtually make certain that the convention would be a prolonged one and thus would be of particular advantage to the city from a business and advertising standpoint.

Mail Pilot Reported in Crash. — By the Associated Press. — SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 16. —According to advices from the air mail field here, air mail pilot Robert Ellis is missing and is reported to have crashed to earth somewhere west of Rock Springs. Ellis was en route from Rawlins westward. An airplane was heard passing over Rock Springs shortly after 2 p. m. yesterday. Dense fog prevented landing. Ellis left Rawlins at 1:36 p. m.

MAN, 65, KILLED BY PEDDLER'S TRUCK

Louis Warnecke, of Father Dempsey's Hotel, Run Over in Third Street Produce Row.

Louis Warnecke, 62 years old, residing at Father Dempsey's Hotel, 1112 North Seventh street, was run over and killed by an automobile truck in Third street, north of Biola street, at 8 a. m. today.

His death was the tenth fatality caused by motor vehicles in St. Louis this month and the 124th this year. There were 129 such deaths in the same period last year.

The truck was driven by Gus Merz, 35, a fruit peddler, of 14 Madison street, who was driving north in Third street. When taken into custody, he said he was driving slowly, because so many fruit and produce trucks were in the street. Warnecke, Merz's neighbor, declared, walked from between trucks parked at the east curb, too late for Merz to stop.

Warnecke, who worked for a Commission Row produce house, was run over by the right rear wheel of the truck and his body was crushed. Walter Huse, 26 years old, 1211 University street, was indicted yesterday on a charge of manslaughter, in connection with the death of Wilbert Rehfuess, 21, of 1439 Chambers street, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident on Nov. 5, last.

Rehfuess and two other persons were injured when the former's automobile, driven by Huse, collided with a machine driven by Walter Beckerle, 19, a coal dealer, of 1959 Withnell avenue, at Michigan avenue and Potomac street. Rehfuess died the following day.

PHILANTHROPIST HAS GOOD TIME SCATTERING COIN TO NEWSBOYS. — Distributes About $30 Largesse and Mentions Something About Christmas Tree.

Newsboys around Olive street and Compton avenue are hoping that the "millionaire philanthropist" who visited them Wednesday afternoon will come again.

He drifted into the Post-Dispatch branch at 2139 Olive street at 4 o'clock and changed a $10 bill into nickels and dimes and had no end of a good time pitching handfuls of coins into the street for negro newsboys to scramble for. To the white boys he presented nickels in goodness number without requiring them to scramble.

When he was out of small change, he bought more, until he had scattered about $30 off largesse. Then he said something about giving the boys a Christmas tree and walked away.

PRISONER, DRUG ADDICT, TRIES TO ESCAPE BUT IS OVERTAKEN

Deputies Overpower William McCauley; Four "Dope" Users Ordered Out of Town.

A prisoner's effort to escape was frustrated by three deputies today when they overpowered William McCauley, a self-confessed drug addict, in the rear of City Court No. 2.

McCauley had just been tried on a charge of vagrancy, before Judge Mathews. When he told the judge he was an addict and liked the judge because "dope" was cheap, the judge fined him $300, which he was unable to pay.

As he was being led out of the courtroom, he broke away from a deputy, ran out of the door, and through the dark corridor. The deputy's cries brought assistance and McCauley's freedom was short lived.

Six other addicts were charged with the same offense, and of these four were ordered to leave town by 5 p. m., one was ordered freed because of lack of evidence and the last was sent to the hospital for treatment. They all were arrested at Eighth and O'Fallon streets. A quantity of needles and morphine was introduced as evidence against the men.

Miner Begins Life Sentence

By the Associated Press.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 16.—Sentenced to serve a life term in the State penitentiary at Moundsville, after he confessed to the murder of a Deputy Sheriff during the armed march of miners in 1921, Edgar Combs, a union miner, was taken to the prison today.

AVOID infection

The throat is the ideal culture-bed for disease germs. In most infections the germs multiply and protect you against disease by destroying germs in these susceptible tissues. It is the most sensitive form of throat prophylaxis. Get a bottle from your druggist today, and protect yourself against infection.

To avoid infection, dissolve a Formosan tablet in the mouth every one or two hours

MAN DROWNED WHEN LAUNCH HITS BARGE

Victim Said to Be Tony Mrazek, 27, of Chicago—2 Companions Rescued.

A man said to be Tony Mrazek, 27 years old, of 5269 South Marshall avenue, Chicago, was drowned when a launch in which he and two companions were cruising down the Mississippi River, collided with a water division barge and overturned about 3 p. m. today near the intake tower of the Chain of Rocks pumping station.

Mrazek was struck on the head by the propeller of the launch and swept under the barge. He reappeared at once, then was swept away. City employees on the barge rescued his two companions, who gave their names as H. J. Broschening of 6241 South Racine avenue, Chicago, and L. N. Eckart of 3717 Peoria avenue, Chicago.

The barge was standing well out into the river, with a crew of men working on the intake tunnel leading to the pumping station. Thomas J. Skinner, foreman, said the launch attempted to steer its way around the barge and tower, but were caught in the swift current and dashed against the side of the barge. The launch was swept away, sinking.

Broschening and Eckart jumped clear of their boat as it struck the barge, and Mrazek attempted to do likewise, but slipped, his head striking the propeller as the launch turned over. A large amount of camping equipment stacked on the launch deck was thrown into the river.

The survivors declined to make a statement when they were taken to the Chain of Rocks pumping station, other than that they had started with Mrazek from Chicago on a six months' pleasure cruise down the river to New Orleans. Both men then were taken to the Mounted District Police Station, pending an inquest by the coroner.

FARMER ROBBED ON HIGHWAY, HOME LOOTED DURING ABSENCE

August Lohse of Prairieville, However, Saved Large Sum He Had Hidden on Person.

To be held up and robbed in two places and by different parties at the same time was the experience yesterday of August Lohse, a farmer living at Prairieville.

On his way to Edwardsville he was stopped by highwaymen who searched him but failed to find a large sum of money he had secreted on his person. They took some small change. Lohse turned back and drove home to find that his place had been entered during the brief interval of his absence and property valued at $150 taken.

Four bandits held up the saloon of Charles Henry at Glen Carbon, in the lower part of Edwardsville township, at 11 o'clock Wednesday night, took $200 from the cash register and small amounts from the 12 patrons who were lined up against the wall for that purpose.

Three men held up the Balzac saloon at Collinsville, securing $25 from the register.

This remarkable sale is the result of a deal that we consummated more than a month ago. One of the best known manufacturers of Leather Handbags in the world came to us with the news that he had taken over the entire business at his present address and in order to facilitate moving his stock would release for cash a large quantity of merchandise intended for this Fall's delivery. The price we agreed upon was, in most cases, considerably less than the cost of labor and materials.

WOMAN CLAIMS HALF OF $150,000 ESTATE

Mrs. May Hickey Testifies She Was Common-Law Wife of Frederick Moll.

A claim of a woman calling herself Mrs. May Hickey Moll, to one-half of the $150,000 estate of Frederick Moll, wholesale liquor dealer, who died in September, 1922, was taken under advisement by Probate Judge Holcomb, yesterday, following a hearing, in which the woman sought to prove by witnesses that she was the common-law wife of Moll.

Moll left May Hickey $3000 in his will and the remainder of his estate to relatives and friends. Taylor S.
Young, an attorney representing a grandson of Moll, who is resisting the common-law wife claim, introduced several witnesses who testified that May Hickey was only a housekeeper for Moll. Young also argued that she was listed in the telephone and city directories as May Hickey.

Witnesses for the claimant were Charles D. Comfort of 4690 South
Broadway, S. D. Folsom of the New Plaza Hotel, and Mrs. Ella Ponzor, all of whom testified they had known Moll and had heard him address the claimant at different times as his wife or as Mrs. Moll.

Moll was presumed by some of his friends to be a widower at the time of his death, his wife having died in 1891.

The claimant contends that she entered into a common-law marriage with Moll in 1894.

STOKES HAS OFFICIAL RECORD OF HIS MARRIAGE TRAGEDY

Inference Drawn That He Is Looking for Possible Grounds for an Annulment Action.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Inference that William E. D. Stokes, defeated in his attempt to divorce his wife, was looking for possible grounds for an annulment action, was drawn Wednesday when he appeared in Hudson County court house, Jersey City, and asked for the records of his marriage license application.

At his request clerks in the Hudson County Board of Health looked up the requirements for witnesses at a marriage performance in New Jersey and sent to the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Trenton for a certified copy of his marriage license. Stokes left $4.95 with Patrick Sheehy, clerk, to pay the messenger who brought the record from Trenton.

Stokes indicated he was under the impression that the present requirement that 72 hours must elapse between issuance of a marriage license in New Jersey and the ceremony was

ARMY URGES TRAINING TO MAKE BLIND SELF-SUPPORTING

Second Day, Who Lost His Sight in the War, Addresses Kiwanis Club at Luncheon.

Raymond Day, an ex-soldier who lost his sight in the world war, now president of the United States Veterans' Hospital at Baltimore, addressed the Kiwanis Club at luncheon yesterday at the American An-

He said that of the 100,000 totally blind in the United States less than ten per cent were self supporting, and that when the more than 600 blind in the war came back there was no place for their rehabilitation. The Veterans' Hospital is doing that now, but after it has served its purpose the lack will again exist. For supplying it he suggested a national institution for the rehabilitation of blind adults, who, now, are taught nothing but broom-making and basket weaving and these in a very imperfect way.

Unsurpassed Values and Wide Choice Is Afforded by Our Collection of Toys—You Will Find That

Toyland Beams With Myriads of Playthings

It is only a few weeks until Christmas and the unexcelled values offered in the numerous groups of Toys should prompt many grown-ups to visit Toyland Saturday, where additional space and wider aisles make for convenient selection. The kiddies will want to come, too, for in addition to the many interesting playthings there is a real house with Gretchen and Hans in the yard and the old witch looking out the window, a Tom Tinker merry-go-round, a big lion that moves his head, Santa Claus telephoning to the North Pole, and other novel sights.

TWO NEW IMMORTALS ARE ELECTED BY FRENCH ACADEMY

Henri Robert, former Bar Association Head, and Edmond Estaunie, Poet, Chosen.

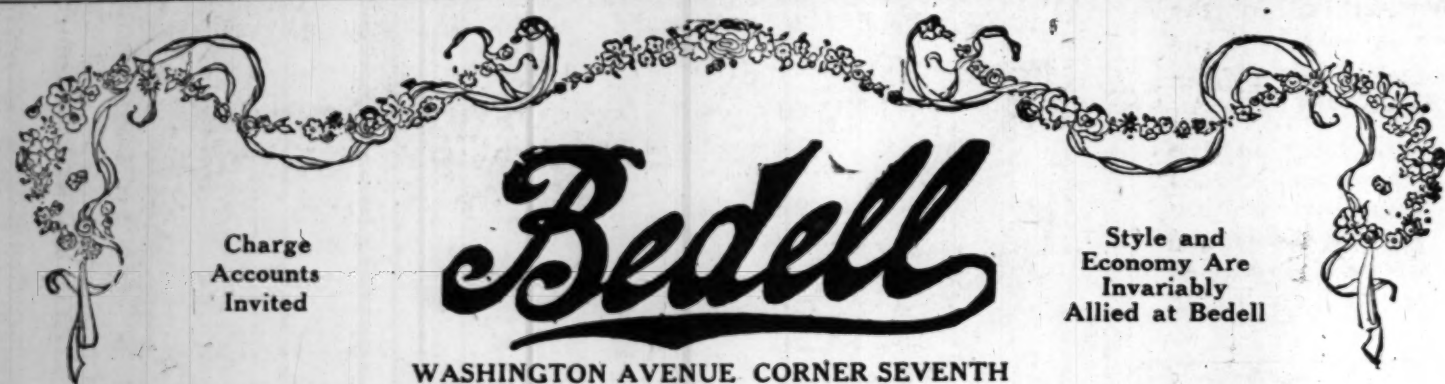

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 16.—The French Academy yesterday elected two new immortals. Henri Robert, former president of the Paris Bar Association, was elected to the seat of the late Alexandre Ribot, obtaining 19 votes to 11 for M. Paleologue, former French Ambassador in Petrograd. Edmond Estaunie, poet, art critic and novelist, was elected to succeed the late Alfred Capus. A deadlock between Prof. Louis Madelin and Abel Hermant, candidates for the seat of the late Jean Alcard, remained unsettled, the election being postponed for the fifth time after four ballots in which neither candidate obtained a majority. The 32 immortals were all present at the meeting.

May Quiz Film Actors in Dry Case.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 16.—A score of motion picture actors and directors probably will be called before the Federal grand jury next week to explain why their names and telephone numbers were on a list seized from two alleged bootleggers said to be catering to the "Hollywood trade," according to H. H. Dooley, Chief of the Federal prohibition field forces in California.

$5500 COMPROMISE VERDICT

McNamara Children Accept Settlement in Father's Death by Auto.
A compromise verdict of $5500 was entered yesterday in Circuit Judge Taylor's court in favor of the five children of Joseph D. McNamara, general passenger agent of the Wabash Railroad, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident in Forest Park June 16, 1918.

The verdict was against Thomas W. Garland, 5187 Raymond avenue, with whose automobile a machine occupied by McNamara collided at Parade and Government drives in the park. The jury was taken to the scene of the accident to observe the sharpness of curves at that point. The suit was for $10,000, and a compromise was reached between the parties just as Judge Taylor was ready to instruct the jury. McNamara's wife died about a year before his death. He was 46 years old.

20 MEN AFFECTED BY GAS FROM LEAKY PIPE

Two Found in Serious Condition When Lodgers Awaken in Gas Filled Rooming House.

Foreign laborers, rooming in a house at Twelfth and G streets, Madison, awoke today with headaches and feelings of nausea, and discovered that gas was escaping somewhere on the premises.

Those who made the discovery opened windows, called in neighbors and the police, and awakened as many of their fellow-lodgers as they could. Two could not be thoroughly aroused and these were taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Their condition is serious. One is John Stehnik, 59 years old and married; the name of the other was not known.

Besides these two, 18 men suffered more or less from the effects of the gas. No jet was found open, and the police believed a leak had occurred in the pipe, somewhere within the wall of the room where the men most seriously affected were sleeping. An investigation is being made.

The lodging house was without its usual supervision last night, as the proprietor, Peter Stadl, and his wife, were arrested in the afternoon by prohibition agents, and did not get back to the place.

NEW USE FOR 'BUCKET OF BLOOD'

"The Bucket of Blood" at Second and Elm streets, where Mississippi River steamboat captains and gamblers drank their liquor and danced in the days gone by, is now a meeting hall used by the Young Men's Christian Association. An organization of the type termed by the Y. M. C. A. secretaries as a "boys' work club" meets in one of the rooms of the building at regular intervals.

Before the "Bucket of Blood" fell or rose to its estate—it is a matter of perspective which—it was notorious as the hang-out of the James boys and the Younger brothers during their trips to St. Louis.

TWO HELD IN INQUIRY INTO DEATH OF BABY

Widow, Mother of Five, and Married Man Jailed by Elyria (O.) Authorities.

By the Associated Press. ELYRIA, O., Nov. 16.—A widow, mother of five children, and a married man, said to have been her neighbor, are in jail here following an investigation of the Lorain County Coroner into the finding of a baby's body in a farm yard.

According to authorities, the man made a statement in which he is alleged to have told of buying the child, putting the baby into it, pouring in a quantity of chloroform and then burying the infant while it was under the influence of the anesthetic.

Fearing detection, the alleged statement continues, the man went out a week later to bury it deeper. A passing motorist saw him and told authorities. The widow and the man will be charged with first degree murder, the Coroner said.

COOLIDGE SPEEDS UP ROUTINE

Adopts Roosevelt's Method of Meeting Delegations Together.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—As an experiment in lightening the routine of the presidency, President Coolidge adopted yesterday the Roosevelt method of meeting delegations. He had eight or ten groups ushered in together and then made a round of his office devoting a minute or two to each.

His secretary, Mr. Siemp, pronounced the trial a success. The callers were pleased with their interviews and the President did in about 10 minutes what would have taken an hour otherwise. This practice, according to Siemp, and the present system of handling correspondence will remove the necessity of legislation to relieve the executive. This legislation was advocated widely after Mr. Harding's death, but Mr. Coolidge obviously feels it would be disadvantageous now. Siemp said the President leaves his desk clear daily and the White House has caught up with its work.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE WATERS OF HOT SPRINGS

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The therapeutic value of the waters of Hot Springs National Park in Arkansas will be thoroughly investigated by a committee of leading members of the medical profession, Secretary Work announces.

The decision resulted from the request of a conference of doctors called together by the National Research Council at the request of the Interior Department. The proposed investigation, it was announced, will be made for the benefit of the public in the use of the mineral water of Hot Springs and "for the information of the medical profession."

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creosolene, an emulsion of creosote that is pleasant to take. Creosolene is a new medical discovery with resolute action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membrane and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agent for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creosolene contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membrane and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creosolene is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creosolene Co., Atlanta, Ga.

POLICE DOGS HELP GUARD LEAGUE RECORDS AT NIGHT

Powerful German Animal and Huge St. Bernard Accompany Watchman on Rounds.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Oct. 28.—When Americans pass the main portal of the League of Nations building, which overlooks Lake Lemane, they often stop to gaze at two enormous, beautiful dogs which recline there, docile and stretching their huge bulk out on the carpet in lazy satisfaction.

Thus it is in day, but at night these harmless-looking creatures become the terrifying guardians of the League temple, with all its countless treasures of documents and records. One is a great German dog, lithe and powerful; the other a huge St. Bernard, and they go the rounds with the night guardians, running down this corridor and that, poking their noses in a room here and a room there, seeking the possible ill-doer.

Sir Eric Drummond, the secretary-general of the league, is taking no chances with the wealth of documentary material committed to his care, and figures that, if men will go to the extreme of trying to steal rattle-snakes, as they did recently in New York, they might take it into their heads to lighten the historical archives of the League of Nations.

GANZ AND LEVITZKI SHARE CONCERT HONORS

Former Surpasses Self in Franck Symphony, and Pianist Proclaims With Beethoven.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

REALLY? If Mr. Ganz continues to conduct as he did last night in Cesar Franck's D Minor Symphony, some day we shall inadvertently refer to him as "the former pianist." This interpretation, confident, polished and professional, together with the "Doric delicacy" of Mr. Mischa Levitzki's art in Beethoven's C Minor piano concerto, sent the audience forth rejoicing in both orchestra and soloist. The second experiment in Thursday night concert, unlike that of last week, found the Odeon almost filled. The program was repeated this afternoon.

The symphony of the Belgian master is so outpouring of passion; it has the austere and cloistered spirit of a Gothic cathedral. Without demanding fiery emotional resources, it still gave spacious scope to the director's instinct for fine and detailed workmanship, and summoned in him a new restraint, an almost reverent silence.

Not here were sought the tawdry triumphs of sonorous bluster; it was a soft and gentle hue, it was possible to obtain effects of brilliance without the orchestral palette of its ultimate purple. The road traveled by the music was no level and monotonous highway; it was filled with those little artificial gradients, those curves and declivities of sound, which give fascination and variety to such a tour. To change the figure, the music had the flexing knees and muscles of an athlete.

Rich Blending of Sound.

Under this temperate guidance, the remodeled orchestra yielded a mellow and luminous music. Rarely has its general voice soothed the ear with a more gracious euphony. Even the trumpet subdued their quantity to a tone little shriller than a fortissimo of all the violins united. At moments the blending of chords had the wealth of an organ. And it was not only in quiescence and mechanism that the performance prospered; Mr. Ganz had the proportions of the work firmly in his grasp, and reared the massive scaffolds of tones with an amplitude that was architectural.

Almost as much praise would be given to the number which preceded it, Debussy's second nocturne, "Pelleas," if it had not begun rather heavily for a comic dance of nebulous dust, as the composer has described his intention. Later the trip grew more airy, the rhythm more delicately festive, until the end came with a pirouette of exquisite definiteness. The program began with Beethoven's "Carnival" overture, played with gusto and revelry. But in this, and in the orchestral part of the following concerto, there were indications of a new direction, particularly in the woodwinds, to remind us that the organization has not yet attained the infallibility of a virtuoso band.

Perhaps certain patches, the conductor seemed rougher than they really were, in contrast with the remarkable refinement of Mr. Levitzki's playing. This youthful performance was saturated with the classic and the modern, and the conductor's evidence of his rare modesty, it may be said that never, even in his canonical, did he give the impression of a soloist; he was always the orchestra's collaborator in producing a subtle work. The most formidable passages were dispatched with an unobtrusiveness which deprived even the least festive of individuality.

Pianist Wins Ovation.

It was a grave, poetic young artist interpreting the tender, Spartan music of Beethoven. Sometimes it seemed as if the general shimmering of tone could have no connection with a machine of hammers and strings. The pianist used, in the first movement, his own admirable command, based on Beethoven's technique, to bestow upon O'Dwyer the recommendation of the Bishop of the diocese for his "great benefactions of religion."

Created Knight of Order of Gregory.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Nov. 16.—By Papal decree, R. J. O'Dwyer Sr. of Texarkana has been created a Knight of the Order of Gregory, according to an announcement by Rev. Father O. B. Clarendon, pastor of St. Edward's church. The decree was bestowed upon O'Dwyer on the recommendation of the Bishop of the diocese for his "great benefactions of religion."

Miss Clara McCune Dies.

Miss Clara C. McCune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. McCune, and the late J. H. McCune, president of the State National Bank, died today at home, 4429 Westminster place, from heart trouble. She had been ill in health for some time. She was 48 years old and had lived all her life in St. Louis. She is survived by her mother and three sisters and four brothers. The funeral will be at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow from the residence to Bellefontaine Cemetery.

ENGLISH NOVELIST WHO IS VISITING ST. LOUIS

MISS REBECCA WEST.

Henry McCree of the Watson road will be host at a dinner for 26 guests at the St. Louis Country Club tomorrow night, to introduce his debutante niece, Miss Mary O'Fallon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard O'Fallon of 4543 Pershing avenue. Because of mourning in both families Mr. and Mrs. O'Fallon and Mrs. McCree will not attend. The guests will include only debutantes and their escorts.

Miss O'Fallon's frock is white chiffon, fashioned simply with a pink rose girdle, and she will carry a sheaf of the same flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Ruth McKittick Jones will give a dinner for Miss O'Fallon and Miss Polly Wyles, preceding the ball to be given by Mrs. Arthur B. Sherry Dec. 19 at the Country Club for her daughter, Miss Emily.

About 200 reservations have been made for the dinner dance at the St. Louis Country Club tomorrow night. The O'Fallon party is to be the largest, with similar smaller affairs by Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Hoblitzelle for Mrs. Hoblitzelle's sister, Mrs. Kent Saverly Cook of Lake Forest, Ill., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Breckinridge, and by Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Gifford, who will have a table of debutantes for Mrs. Gifford's sister, Miss Mary Virginia Collins.

Society is anticipating the arrival of the Princeton Triangle Club, which will play at the Odeon Thursday evening, Dec. 23, for the first time in its history. The men will remain until Sunday of that week, and their visit will be the occasion of a number of parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Street of 4215 Lindell boulevard are in the East visiting their sons, who are students at Princeton University and Westminster School.

Miss Frances Bradshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Samuel Bradshaw of 5130 Washington boulevard, will depart Sunday for Washington, D. C., to visit friends. Miss Bradshaw was graduated at National Park Seminary, and her stay will include visits to former classmates. Mrs. Bradshaw will give one of a series of bridge luncheons Thursday afternoon at her home.

Mrs. Robert La Fean of York, Pa., and her small daughter, Betty Ball La Fean, are visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. James Moore, Ball, 4374 Washington boulevard. Before her marriage, Mrs. La Fean was Miss Josephine Ball.

Willard S. Yates has returned to his home in Lincoln, Neb., after a visit to his brother and sister-in-law, Col. and Mrs. Haley E. Yates, at Jefferson Barracks.

Mrs. Edward Mead of 6213 Waterman avenue was hostess at a bridge luncheon this afternoon complementing Mrs. F. W. Gaston of Passaic, N. J., who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Francis, 6288 Waterman avenue. There were six tables for cards.

Mrs. Jerome Benjamin of 7025 Maryland terrace entertained 30 guests at a dinner dance Monday night.

'SENSATION' ROSE WINS THE SHAW MEDAL

New Variety Entered in Show by Joseph and E. G. Hill Takes Highest Flower Honor.

The Henry Shaw gold medal for the best and most attractive debutante in the floral world was awarded to the "Sensation" rose yesterday when it was presented at the court of the kindly chrysanthemum and the queenly rose at the Flower Show in the First Regiment Armory, Grand boulevard and Market street. The medal is the highest prize American floral award. Last year it was not awarded at all, although there were several aspirants for the honor. The three entries this year were all presented by Joseph and E. G. Hill of Richmond, Ind. The two other new varieties, both roses, had not yet been named. One is of a delicate pink, and the other is a soft yellow, deeper in the center, like the smaller Aaron Ward, which is one of its parents.

The "Sensation" is a very dark red, of remarkable depth and softness of color. A velvet sheen on the inside of the petals, which appears in some other roses, is strikingly developed. "Sensation" is a daughter of the popular Premier and the smaller and darker Hoosier Beauty. It is as large as the Premier.

The higher colors of the chrysanthemums which featured the opening day of the show yesterday were offset by a blushing multitude of "Premiers," almost to the exclusion of other roses. Prize winners among the "mums" and educational displays of them still supplied contrasting points of white and yellow flame or deep red shadow.

A rose which attracted much attention was the Claudius Pernet, achieved by Pernet Ducher of Paris and named after his son, who was killed in the World War. The blossoms are of a clear and even cream yellow, unlike the Ward and other yellow roses. The leaves are few and of an unusual hard, waxy appearance.

New Lily Falls Asleep.

For six weeks George Pring, horticulturist at Shaw's Garden, and superintendent of the show, has wheeled Gen. Pershing, a new lily produced this year at the garden, to stay awake after all its fellows were asleep. Wednesday it was still awake, though drowsily showing only three inches of its 12-inch expanse of lavender-pink petals, but yesterday, in the midst of all that clangor of colors, it fell fast asleep. Whether it cast 25 landed petals in the remaining days of the show, which closes Sunday night, is doubtful.

Carnations are the feature of the show today, and many new or striking varieties are to be displayed. One innovation, the variegated Rosalie, with petals flecked as well as bordered with pink in an especially vivid effect, has been exhibited since the show opened. The display is open to the public from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Exhibition of Wuerpel Paintings.

The exhibition of paintings by Prof. E. H. Wuerpel, director of the St. Louis School of Fine Arts, Washington University, which has been at the Shortridge Gallery, 4418 Washington boulevard, since Nov. 1, will remain there until Wednesday. It comprises about 25 landscapes painted in the vicinity of his summer home on the New York side of the St. Lawrence River.

"QUEEN VICTORIA" A SATISFACTORY PLAY

Two Chief Roles of Production in New York Are Superbly Acted.

By HETWOOD BROWN.
Drama Critic of the New York World.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—At last the Equity players have hit upon a play which looks like a success. And it ought to be, for "Queen Victoria," by David Carb and Walter Pritchard Eaton, is a chronicle play which seems to us even more shrewdly contrived than John Drinkwater's "Abraham Lincoln."

The two chief roles are superbly acted; and throughout the piece moves along, never flagging in interest, and now and again stirring the spectators with a most unobtrusive eloquence.

The chronicle play is not a difficult form, for the author who has the good sense to reap all the natural advantages of recognition. This, it is quite enough for a thriller to send on somebody and call him Gladstone or the Prince of Wales, even if he does nothing in particular. But both Carb and Eaton have done much theorizing about the theater, and we were surprised and gratified at the simplicity with which they approached the job in hand. The play was animated by an instinctive showmanship which one does not readily associate with the work of theatrical theorists.

An Appealing Touch.

One or two circumstances which seem more or less accidental have done much to help "Queen Victoria." It is hardly likely that the English sovereign was quite as cockney as she sounds in the performance of Beryl Mercer but, instead of being a handicap, this touch is altogether humanizing and appealing. The Victoria of the play is by no means the figure drawn by Strachey.

The authors have gone back to a source much older. Instead of the masterful and intuitively shrewd woman painted by Strachey, we have Kipling's "Widow at Windsor." Not much attention is devoted to the intelligence of Victoria. The emphasis lies wholly on her emotions.

Her love for Albert is the dominating note and it is made entirely credible and worthy by the magnificent performance of the recruit from the German theater who plays the role. Ulrich Haupt, who we are informed, is playing his first part in English, achieved an unmistakable magnificence. Haupt should easily roll about in that vast, vacant field which has been provided by the death of romantic actors on American stage. He made the death of Albert an incident as moving as anything presented this season.

Miss Mercer's Victoria was excellent, and she easily surmounted the difficult ordeal of being the young girl required at the beginning of the play. As the queen of the diamond jubilee, she came completely into her own. Here the restraint of the authors is admirable. They have done no more for the last act than have the little old woman come out to receive the homage of her subjects from the far-flung dominions. There is no compelling situation, no line of unmistakable tang and flavor, and yet the scene reduced us to a mood which we are afraid was melting.

We have no hesitation in recommending "Queen Victoria" as one of the most satisfactory plays of the season.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN WANT EQUAL VOTE IN CONVENTION

Demand Included in Resolution Adopted at Conference of Clubs.

A demand by the members of the Democratic Women's Clubs of Missouri that women be accorded half the delegates' seats in the 1934 Democratic national convention was included in a resolution adopted at the conference of the clubs at Hotel Statler yesterday.

The resolution, directed to the next Democratic State convention, which will elect delegates to the national convention, insisted, in the selection of delegates, the observance of the spirit of the equal representation provided by law for all party committees in Missouri.

Another resolution accepted as the platform of the clubs, the Democratic national platform adopted in 1929 until there shall be a new platform written by the convention next year.

Melodrama woven with admirable restraint through a penetrating analysis of the German philosophy is the playwright's part. He has played it singularly well.

Martin Harvey is called upon to interpret the feelings of the whole world, incredulous before the thrust of the German arms. He is an old man, lulled by years of peace and pleasant living. Stupefied by the shock at first, he calls to a glorious defiance. His acting is exceptionally fine throughout.

DECREASES IN CHILD LABOR 20 Per Cent Decline Here, 50 Per Cent in Kansas City.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1.—Child labor has decreased 50 per cent since 1921 in Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo., but only 20 per cent in St. Louis, according to Mrs. Alice Curfise Moyer-Wing, head of the State Industrial Inspection Department. Illegal employment of children is almost a thing of the past in Missouri, Mrs. Moyer-Wing said here. St. Louis, Mrs. Moyer-Wing declared, is a difficult city in which to effect a reduction of child employment, because of its great size and numerous industries.

WALTON'S PARDON RECORD GONE INTO BY SENATE COURT

Testimony Heard on Charge Governor Abused Clemency Powers to Provide Fees for Friends.

By the Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Nov. 16.
—The Senate Court of Impeachment delved further today into the pardon and parole record of Gov. J. C. Walton in hearing the charge that the executive abused his clemency powers to provide lucrative fees for his political supporters and friends.

The board of prosecution announced it would present additional evidence to show that attorneys in many instances collected thousands of dollars for obtaining clemency for their clients. Wholesale pardons and paroles were issued, it is charged, in some cases over the protests of county officials and numerous individuals and even before the defendant had been convicted.

Legislation Planned.
Meanwhile, members of the Senate prepared to take action to prevent State Legislators from using their influence to obtain clemency for criminals for fees. The announcement that they would introduce a bill today to prohibit such practices followed closely the evidence presented at yesterday's session of the trial that Guy Sigler, a member of the lower house, agreed to arrange a pardon for a convict within 60 days for $2500. The money was paid, according to the testimony, and the pardon was issued in less than the allotted time. The measure, its authors said, would make it a felony for any legislator to obtain clemency for which he received remuneration and would provide severe penalties for violation.

Much of the day was devoted to bringing out details of an alleged agreement between Sigler and Pearl Hicks of Beckham, Ok., who obtained a pardon after being convicted on a fraudulent check charge. T.
M. Lowery, court clerk of Beckham County, identified a certified copy of a contract by which Sigler was to resolve $2500, the appeal bond which Hicks had made, in return for obtaining a pardon within 60 days. The witness also testified that he paid the money on June 28 last, to Sigler's agent, H. H. Diskins.

Aldrich Blake, former executive counselor, testified that Gov. Walton had information that Sigler would get $1000 for obtaining the pardon for Hicks.

The prosecution also introduced testimony bearing on the case of H.
T. Wheeler, who was convicted of possessing liquor in Custer County and who presented a number of letters to the Court when sentence was passed upon him. Fred Larue, County Attorney of Custer, detained the case. Upon cross-examination, he admitted that a number of letters had been written to the Governor by representative men of the county urging clemency, for Wheeler, who is manager of a telephone company at Custer City.

The prosecution took up a pardon granted to Jess Littrell, alleged notorious outlaw, which was issued just before Gov. Walton was suspended following the filing of impeachment charges against him. The pardon was annulled by Acting Gov.

M. E. Trapp, and Littrell still is in the penitentiary, where he is serving a life sentence for murder. Since the pardon was issued, two additional murder charges have been filed against Littrell, which had been held in abeyance when the original charge was brought. The prosecution contended that the Governor knew the two other charges had not been filed and that in issuing a pardon he had attempted to absolve Littrell of responsibility in the three cases.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—Seven persons were killed and 20 injured today near Stuttgart, when a locomotive collided with a passenger train.

HEFLIN WILL DEMAND INQUIRY

Charges Prominent Republican Is Involved in Land Frauds.
By the Associated Press.

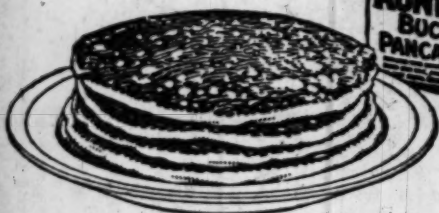

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, announced today that he would ask the Senate to investigate "the activities of a certain nationally-known Republican politician in land frauds, and the alleged suppression of the reports of postal inspectors on the same."

He said complaints had reached members of the House and Senate from the agricultural sections. Such an inquiry he predicted would be "far-reaching in its effect, and may involve many nationally-known men now prominent in the councils of the Government." He refused to mention any names.

Unemployed Negroes Ordered Out.
By the Associated Press.
WAUKESHA, Ill., Nov. 14.—Every unemployed negro is being ordered out of here today by deputies led by Chief of Police Julius V. Balz and Sheriff Edwin Ahlstrom, as a result of an attack by an unidentified negro on Mrs. Minnie Snow, 62 years old, of Zion City.

FOR IMMEDIATE ENTRY OF U. S. INTO LEAGUE

Episcopal Bishops Urge Action to Avert Danger of Another World War.

By the Associated Press.
DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 14.—Entrance of the United States into the League of Nations or immediate steps by this country to organize some other effective association or council of nations for the purpose of "settling amicably international disputes and thus save us from the great danger of another world war," was favored in a resolution adopted yesterday at the closing session of the House of Bishops of the Episcopal Church. Copies of the resolutions are to be sent to President Coolidge, Secretary Hughes and the chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs.

Church Alliance for World Court Participation.
By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14.—A resolution demanding that the United States become a signatory to the Court of International Justice was adopted yesterday at the annual meeting of the American Council of the World Alliance for International Friendship through the churches. The resolution states that "after the United States becomes a participant in the World Court," the people should call upon the Senate to begin immediately the study of how this country may find entrance into the League of Nations, or find some substitute association to which other nations will agree.

Man and Wife, Both 70, Killed by Train.
By the Associated Press.
MONTEREY, Ind., Nov. 14.—Four years ago the wife and two children of Albert Paulstitch of this city were killed by an Erie Railroad train while walking along the tracks near here. Yesterday, on the same tracks, and within a few feet of the same spot, Paulstitch's brother, George, and the latter's wife, both about 70 years of age, met death in a similar manner.

Miss Phillips, who was 18 years old, ended her life by asphyxiation in a boarding house at 4206 Washington boulevard, which she had to leave because she could not pay for her room, where she was later found dying. Her body has been at the morgue since last Saturday.

SEEKS CALIPH'S ABDICATION
Angora Government Wants to Name Non-Turk to Place.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The Angora government is bent on forcing the abdication of the Caliph, says the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. The purpose, according to the writer, is to bring about the election by a Pan-Islamic congress of a non-Turk caliph who, therefore, would not resent the loss of temporal power and who might even reside abroad, thereby facilitating the elevation of Mustafa Kemal Pasha, President of the new Turkish republic, to a purely secular sultanate.

CITY TO SELL $2,000,000 IN WATERWORKS BONDS FEB. 1

Money to Be Used in Constructing New Plant at Howard's Bend on the Missouri River. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment today agreed to sell on Feb. 1 a $2,000,000 bond issue authorized last February, for construction of a new waterworks at Howard's Bend, on the Missouri River. This bond issue is a part of the $57,000,000 voted for public improvements, but is not a charge against taxation, as the waterworks bonds are to be retired from revenues of the Water Division. The waterworks bonds will bear 5 per cent interest. Water Commissioner Wall submitted $6,500,000 in waterworks bonds to the Board of Estimate during the year, but the Board of Estimate deferred action on all but $2,000,000 of the program. Wall's outline provided a bond sale next June of $1,456,000 to finance the engine pits, intake tower, railroad yards and right of way; $2,500,000 next June for the approximately 14 miles of pipe line to connect the waterworks with the city; $550,000 next June to reimburse water revenues for money advanced on construction now under way; $1,450,000 in September for settling basins.

Conference With Strikers Rejected. By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—An uncompromising attitude was adopted today by C. H. Hix, vice-president of the Virginian Railway, who, before the United States Railroad Labor Board, informed representatives of the striking engineers and firemen that he could not comply with the suggestion of Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the board, that the disputants get together and settle their grievances. Hix declared that the men's grievances were not sufficient basis for a strike and that many new men had been employed and it would not be fair to compromise the situation and turn out these new men for the old employees.

Phone Operator Arouses Town.
By the Associated Press.
DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 16.—What is believed to have been an attempt to rob the First National Bank of Hoopeston, north of here, was frustrated early today by Miss Ada Farrell, night telephone operator there, who turned in the fire alarm when the telephone cables were cut.
The lights on the switchboard indicated that something was wrong, and, being unable to call anyone over the telephone, the operator started the fire alarm bell. Hundreds of people were soon in the streets.

"My dear, how did you get so slender?"

"YOU looked so different only a few weeks ago!
And now you seem years younger! What have you been doing to yourself?"

And you can truthfully answer that you have hardly done a thing—except use Melto—a most remarkable reducing cream. You have hardly changed your habits of living, you have enjoyed the good things of life—you haven't starved yourself to flabbiness or exercised to exhaustion. Not at all! You have simply used the newest discovery of science praised by thousands of women everywhere.
Melto is a delicate, fragrant, rose-scented cream. You simply rub a little of this cream on the places or places you wish to reduce—be it hips, bust, chin, thighs, ankles or elsewhere. Rub for five minutes and repeat this treatment each evening.

Now all fat is directly under the skin.
Melto is absorbed by the pores and undermines away the fat. With this treatment you reduce where you want to reduce and nowhere else. Your skin becomes smooth and clear and your muscles firm.

You can have a slender, graceful figure,
you can have greater beauty; you can have better health, brighter eyes and a lighter sleep when you have rid yourself of this terrible burden.

It's so simple, so easy, so convenient to use Melto that you shouldn't tolerate excess fat another day.

Stop at your department store, drug store or beauty shop today and ask for Melto Reducing Cream. It costs only $1 for an 8-oz. jar. Begin using it to night.
It will be the happiest day of your life when actual measurements show that you have gained the slenderness, the grace, the admiration that is every woman's natural right.

It's absolutely harmless!

Trains Dispatched by Telephone.
By the Associated Press.
PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 14.—Telephoning is so rapidly superseding the telegraph key in train dispatching that about half the railroad mileage in the United States now gets train orders by telephone. It was stated by Capt. John W. Gorbey, asstant to the president of the National Transportation Institute, in an address yesterday at the annual convention of the Illinois Telephone Association. Double speed is attained by the use of the telephone instead of telegraphy, said Capt. Gorbey. Not a single railroad error ever has been caused as the result of telephone orders, he said.

NOLTE'S OBJECTION TO DOUBLING BOND SALE TO BE HEARD

Mayor Urges Use of $10,- 000,000 Instead of $5,- 000,000, but Action Waits on Comptroller's View.

Mayor Kiel appeared before the Citizens' Supervisory Committee yesterday to urge that the $5,000,000 bond sale fixed by ordinance for 1934 be doubled to $10,000,000 but action was deferred until next Thursday to enable the committee to hear the views of Comptroller Nolte. The latter has opposed the increase, holding it to be inconsistent with pre-bond election promises.

The bond sale ordinance governing the $7,000,000 issue is based on a schedule submitted in the bond campaign. Taxation arguments favorable to the bonds were founded on this schedule, which spreads the sale over a 10-year period, with fixed amounts each year. This plan, it was stated, would hold down the tax rate and spread the cost over a period of 10 years.

A majority of the committee members present appeared to favor the increase and a question was raised as to whether the committee was under any obligation, and whether the bond sale plan of the campaign organization was an "implied" promise.

W. Frank Carter's Attitude.
In response to such an inquiry, Chairman W. Frank Carter, who was chairman of the bond campaign organization and the General Council on Civic Needs, which drafted the bond program, said he considered himself bound by such a pledge.
"I can't go back on the statements
I made time and again in the campaign about the plan for issuing the bonds," Carter said. "Taxation was one of the bugaboes, and this plan of issuing the bonds in fixed amounts for 10 years was figured out on a scientific basis, to hold down the tax rate in the next few years, and enable the city to increase assessed valuations to liquidate a part of the increased taxation."

Mayor Kiel urged the increase to permit completion of more projects next year. He said that after a $2,500,000 revolving fund for condemnation of property is taken out next year, the city would have only the $1,000,000 Union Market and "a few lamp posts" to show the people.
If only $5,000,000 in bonds were sold.

Mayor States His Position.
"We will have to spend the money some time," the Mayor said, "and I believe next year an opportune time.
I don't believe there will be much construction work, and we will have plenty of labor. It is a shame to deprive ourselves of the money when things are needed so badly right now."

"I don't think we are violating any pledges," the Mayor continued, "but if we used bad judgment in the past there is no reason why we should not change our minds now."

Comptroller Nolte's opposition to the increase, the Mayor asserted, is due to the fact that the tax rate would have to be increased. "Naturally it will raise taxes," the Mayor said, "but the increase will be only about 5 cents on the $100 assessed valuation."

The Mayor recalled that the tax rate for this year, the first year of the new bond issue, had been reduced 7 cents from the $2.50 rate for 1932. It is recalled that this reduction was effected by the State cutting off 3 cents and the Board of Education cutting off 4 cents. The city rate went up 5 cents from $1.49 to $1.54, a net reduction of 7 cents.

Frank Gerhart suggested that the Comptroller be invited to the next meeting. He said Nolte should be heard before the committee approved any amendment of the bond ordinance. "In the last analysis," Gerhart said, "it looks to be a question of keeping faith with the people. We may want other bond issues in the future. If the people get the idea that we don't keep faith on promises made in bond elections, it will be difficult to get bond issues passed in the future."

Other members urged that the program should be speeded up, to satisfy citizens that something was being accomplished. A. S. Werre-meyer declared that this was a menace to health. It was urged that citizens would feel compensated for the slight increase in tax rates by enjoying the benefits of the improvements.

The committee approved a bill appropriating $175,000 from the unexpended balance of a bond issue voted in 1930, for purchase and installation of electric street lighting equipment. Approval also was given a bill appropriating $17,000 for a locker building, gymnasium and other improvements at Sherman Park, King's highway and Easton avenue.
A bill to condemn part of the right of way for mains of the new waterworks was referred to a subcommittee.

The Easiest Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that not only removes dandruff completely, but that is to dissolve it. This is entirely. To do this, just use four ounces of plain, ordinary arvon; apply it at night, using enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with your fingers.
By morning most, if not all,
of the dandruff will be gone, and three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy single signs and trace of it, showing how much dandruff you were carrying.
You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will cease, and your hair will be soft, lustrous, glossy, silky and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you need. This simple remedy has been known to fail.

CONTEMPT ACTION FILED AGAINST BEN C. HYDE

Insurance Companies Says Rate Cut Order Violates Temporary Injunction.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 16.—Attorneys representing 150 insurance companies doing business in Missouri today filed an application in the Cole County Circuit Court to have Ben C. Hyde, State Superintendent of Insurance, cited for contempt of court, alleging his recent order directing a 15 per cent cut in the rates of certain insurance companies constituted a violation of a temporary injunction pending against him.

Hyde, on Nov. 9, last, ordered a 15 per cent cut in the rates on fire, lightning, hail and windstorm insurance, effective Dec. 15.

A previous attempt by Hyde to reduce rates 10 per cent was blocked when the companies obtained a temporary injunction prohibiting him from enforcing the order. This was issued by Circuit Judge Westhues here on July 19 last, and was returnable Nov. 24.

The application filed today alleges the attempt by Hyde to reduce the rates, prior to final adjudication of the injunction proceedings, was a violation of the injunction and in contempt of court. Judge Westhues set the application for hearing on Dec. 1. The application was presented by John S. Leahy of St. Louis.

Hyde's action to lower rates of the stock insurance companies operating in the State, about 150 in number, was taken under a statute making it mandatory for the Superintendent of Insurance to investigate and act in the event complaint is made to the department by citizens who regard the rates as too high. Hyde said numerous complaints had been received, but that the specific case in which the order was issued was a complaint of excessive rates filed by C. W. Crossan, an attorney, of Kansas City.

Investigation disclosed the rates were excessive, Hyde said, and the cut was ordered. Hyde declared the statute gave him no choice when such a condition existed.

Legislator Held on Liquor Charge.
CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Joseph Plack, State Representative from the Ninth Senatorial District, was arrested yesterday on a warrant charging him with violation of the prohibition law. Officers said he told them that a quart of liquor, seized in his place of business, was for his personal use.

UNION LEADERS AGREE ON COMPENSATION ACT

Measure to Be Submitted Through Initiative Process at Next General Election.

The final draft of the proposed Missouri workmen's compensation act, which is to be submitted to the voters by the initiative, was completed today at a meeting at Central Trades and Labor Union, 2228 Olive street, attended by about 30 union officials from all parts of the State.

R. T. Wood, president of the Missouri Federation of Labor, who presided at the conference, which was called by the Federation's Executive Committee, said the meeting was marked chiefly by its harmony, and that every angle of organized labor was covered behind the proposed law. The rough draft will be reported back to the Executive Committee, which will draft the law and prepare the initiative petitions.

Main Features Agreed Upon.

The main features of which the conference today agreed upon are: Monopolistic State insurance, administered by a commission, somewhat similar to the Ohio law, with the employer optionally carrying his own insurance under adequate bond. Waiting period of two days, before compensation is allowable; medical aid up to $500; injured person to choose physician and hospital.

Temporary total disability payments to be limited to 400 weeks; permanent partial disability payments, same limit; permanent total disability, 66 2-3 percentage wages for life.

Burial benefit, $250.

Minimum permanent total disability payments to be $12 a week; minimum permanent partial and death payments to be $10 a week; other cases $5 a week.

Payments in Case of Death.

In case of death, six weeks compensation of 66 2-3 of the daily wage to be allowed.

Maximum wage on which compensation shall be allowed in case of accident to be $30 a week, a week to consist of six days.

Wage rule to be two-thirds of wages at time of injury. Injured person's time to be computed at full time based on daily wage.

$30,000 VOTED FOR MOTOR FIRE DEPARTMENT EQUIPMENT

Aldermen Also Authorize Establishment of Cigar Stands in City Buildings by Blind Persons.

A bill appropriating $30,000 to the purchase of motor equipment for the Fire Department was passed today by the Aldermen. The money will be derived from the $772,500 bond issue voted last February for motor equipment and reconstruction of fire engine houses. Purchase of one motor pumping engine, one motor ladder truck, and nine automobiles for district chiefs is authorized in the bill.

Another bill passed today authorizes the Board of Public Service to let contracts to the Missouri Commission for the Blind for establishment of cigar stands in the City Hall, Municipal Courts Building and Courthouse. The stands will be conducted by blind persons, under the terms of the contract.

When a Man Has a Good Race Horse and Money to Burn, He Starts Looking for a Match In Memoriam, Hard Held, Gallops Match Race Route in Good Time; Zev, in Great Shape, Limbers Up

Owners of Three-Year-Old Rivals Say Their Charges Are "in the Pink" of Condition and Will Have No Excuses if Beaten in Tomorrow's Event.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 15.—Zev, the Ranocosa Stable's great 3-year-old, that meets in Memoriam in the match race, Saturday, arrived in Louisville yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock, and before being retired to his stall he was given a short gallop down the back stretch, largely for the benefit of the army of photographers that had gathered to get a snap of the brown son of The Flinn.

He will be given a stiff breeze today, which will be all that is necessary to get him in the pink of condition for his battle for the 3-year-old crown. Zev was accompanied to Louisville by his owner, Harry F. Sinclair, trainer Sam Hill, jockey Earl Sande and August Belmont, head of the New York Jockey Club. The usual crew of stable hands was aboard Zev's special car. Mad Play and Stanwick, the Ranocosa Stable's candidates for the Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes, were in the same car.

Before Zev was shipped from Baltimore he worked the distance of the match, one mile and a quarter, every course deep in mud in the 2:13 7-8. Trainer Hill says this work was satisfactory, and he is confident that Zev will surely take the measure of In Memoriam.

Distance Suits Zev's Trainer.

"Despite the general opinion prevailing that I would rather have run In Memoriam at one mile and an eighth, the extra eighth demanded by Bob Gilmore for the race suits me perfectly," said Hill. "I don't mean to give you the impression I have any excuses to offer for the defeat suffered in his race against In Memoriam, but I know he did not run the race he is capable of, and Saturday he will reverse the decision. Of that, I'm quite certain."

Carl Weidenmann's In Memoriam will be fit as hands can make him for his assignment in the match race, as witnessed by his excellent showing yesterday morning in his final trial over a distance of ground.

Mack Garner, who piloted the great 3-year-old to victory in the championship stakes at Latonia, was in the saddle and steered the son of McGee-Enchanted II a mile and one-quarter, the distance of Saturday's race.

In Memoriam Gallops in 2:10.

In Memoriam was hard held for the entire trip, and turned the first three-quarters in 1:13 1-2, the son of 1:42 3-4, mile and one-eighth in 1:56 and went on out for the mile and

Zev to 5 Favorite Over In Memoriam in Future Betting Here

ALTHOUGH he defeated Zev in the championship stakes at Latonia and did it under Zev's favorite track conditions, In Memoriam was second choice in the advance wagering in St. Louis on the match race at Louisville tomorrow.

Due to consistent backing, In Memoriam's price has been cut in local speculative circles, but he still is quoted at 6 to 5 against, while Zev is 3-to-5 choice.

The shorter distance of the coming event is responsible for the expert belief that Zev will win.

one-quarter in 2:10.

He pulled up strong and acted as if he would relish an added quarter mile. In Memoriam is confident that the big bay colt will repeat his winning effort in the Latonia championship stakes and retire at the end of the 1923 racing season as the undisputed champion three-year-old of the year.

Followers of In Memoriam believe that the McGee colt will win Saturday just as easily as he did the last day of the Latonia meeting when he beat Zev, a city block over the mile and three-quarters course. They scoff at the dictum that Zev will run the mile and a quarter, a shorter distance by one half a mile. Trainer Gilmore says that In Memoriam will show to a better advantage at one mile and a quarter than he did over the longer route. He claims that In Memoriam is in the pink of condition and ready to run as fast and far as race horses go.

Zev unquestionably will be the choice in the pari-mutuels but not from a sentimental point of view. Kentuckians are intensely partisan, when it comes to a home horse, and should In Memoriam again triumph the scenes which followed his victory at Latonia probably will be repeated Saturday at Churchill Downs.

in Memoriam Gallops in 2:10.

In Memoriam was hard held for the entire trip, and turned the first three-quarters in 1:13 1-2, the son of 1:42 3-4, mile and one-eighth in 1:56 and went on out for the mile and

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 15.—A rare sight greeted race-goers at Churchill Downs Monday, after the running of the second race.

The three placed horses in the race were coupled in the mutual betting as the Camden-Milam.

Breckinridge entry. They were Dudley, Graeme and Wilmer the Wizard, 2-year-olds.

There have been few occasions in racing history when an entry took all three portions of a purse, and no one could remember when it had previously occurred on a Kentucky track.

The picture shows the mutual board in the center field after the race had been posted.

The figures under the word "official" on either side of the board are the post positions of the horses. In the ticket number column the serial number is shown—the new time any one remembers seeing the same number in all three positions.

Beside the top-ticket number are the straight, place and show prices paid by the winner and the other two horses also, as they all paid the same price because of being coupled.

ROCKNE WILL ASSIST IN PREPARING ARMY FOR GAME WITH NAVY

By the Associated Press.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Knut Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, has changed his mind about coming to West Point to help with the Army eleven into shape for the Navy.

This announcement was made today by Captain J. J. McEwan, head Army coach, who said that Rockne had accepted his invitation and would be here Monday.

EDDIE AINSWORTH SIGNS WITH NEW YORK GIANTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The New York Giants made another move in their reconstruction campaign yesterday when they signed Eddie Ainsworth, veteran catcher, who was a free agent.

Ainsworth played most of last season with the St. Louis Cardinals. Released late in the last summer, he was signed by Brooklyn as an emergency backup, but let out unconditionally at the end of the diamond season.

Next season will be Ainsworth's fifteenth in major league company. He broke in with Washington in 1919 and remained nine seasons with the Senators, going to Detroit in 1921 and to the St. Louis Nationals in 1922.

Yale Favored to Beat Tigers; Princeton Lacks Scoring Punch

Old Eli Has Demonstrated Ability of Its Attacking Backfield but Has Not Been So Dependable Against Enemy Thrusts—

"Breaks" of the Game May Decide It.

By Lawrence Perry.

(Copyright, 1923.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—In the renewal of their time-honored gridiron classic Saturday, Yale, according to all canons of form, should win over Princeton. The defense of the Elis is not too impressive—as has been demonstrated more than once this season—but included in the eleven are a crowd of sprightly backs who have the long-gain bug in their system. Princeton, on the other hand, has shown a very able defense since and including Nassau game, but on attack the Tigers have not been impressive.

They have a line which is better than anything a Princeton team has shown in many years, but against a big team defense it carries no scoring conviction. Coupled with this is a fine punting game, kicks being adequately covered. Were Yale to fumble a punt anywhere inside her 33-yard line, Princeton recovering, the Tigers conceivably would have the drive to convert the break into a touchdown.

But if Yale makes no breaks Princeton seems unlikely to score against Yale. And even should Yale make a break or two and Princeton score, the Elis have it in their power to score more frequently through a definitely worked out attack than Nassau, under whatever circumstances.

Dope at Times Fails.

All this is as it appears. This way runs the dope. But in no sport is the dope crossed more frequently, surprisingly than in football. Yale, beaten by Illinois, tied by Kansas and Missouri, bobs up and makes Notre Dame which had convincingly defeated Georgia Tech, the Army and Princeton. And upsets like that—and there have been others this season and in past years—leave even the hardened critic tongue-tied, causes his pen to falter woefully.

Were Yale to fall before Princeton it would not be as great an upset as was the Notre Dame-Nebraska game. It would not be a much greater upset, in fact, than the result of the Harvard-Princeton contest. All that can be said is that Yale looks to have an offense qualified to outscore the Tigers and that on paper she ought to win.

Princeton Team Enroute.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 14.—Princeton's football men left Tipton early today for New Haven, where they will meet Yale in the second game of the big three series tomorrow. The team received a typical Princeton send-off.

The Princeton party will arrive at New Haven in time for a short workout this afternoon. The game will be Princeton's final one of the season.

Aviator Fighter To Meet McHale

Knockout Wallops Will Fly When Tiger Cline Boxes St. Louisian Tonight.

Buddy McHale, Billy Maloney's glove-pitching ace, will be one of the guests in the Scott Field Athletic Club ring tonight. Buddy has been invited to toss a few hay makers in the general direction of Tiger Johnny Cline, the Pacific Coast aviator who demonstrated his merit by stopping Ora Dean in two rounds.

If Tiger intervenes between one of Bud's best and the circumstantial atmosphere, the Tiger's name will be puny.

Cline too, is a finisher so that there ought to be a thrill or two before tonight's card is complete.

MAIN EVENT—Bud McHale, St. Louis, vs. Tiger Johnny Cline, Scott Field, 13 rounds, 158 pounds.

SEMIWINDUP—Eli Stua, E. St. Louis, vs. Kid Roberts, Chicago, 6 rounds, 125 pounds.

PRELIMINARY—Jack Poole, Belleville, Ill., vs. "Butch" Christman, Belleville, Ill., 4 rounds, 125 pounds.

Pee-wee Gardner, Scott Field, Ill., vs. Midge Mulligan, Belleville, Ill., 4 rounds, 110 pounds.

"Swede" Johnson, Scott Field, Ill., vs. Kid Siler, Belleville, Ill., 4 rounds, 158 pounds.

A. E. F. WRESTLER DIES SUDDENLY IN HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 15.—Johnny Pano, 28, champion lightweight wrestler of the Rainbow Division, A. E. F., died yesterday afternoon shortly after a workout with another wrestler at the Y. M. C. A.

Pano had taken his shower bath and was in the locker room when he was seized by convulsions and dropped unconscious to the floor.

He was taken to the hospital, but died before a doctor could reach him.

He was a native of St. Louis and had been in Houston for some time.

He was a member of the Y. M. C. A. and had been working there for some time.

He was a very popular man and was well liked by all who knew him.

He was a very good wrestler and had won many championships.

Missouri Tigers Face Washington In Annual Game

Tigers Likely to Use Second String Men After Early Stages of Play.

CANTWELL TO PLAY END

Piker Captain Appears in Last Game on Francis Field—Two Tigers Hurt.

The Piker football machine will play its big game of the year against Missouri tomorrow, determined to make its best showing of the season before the large homecoming crowd which is expected to see the Red and Green team in its last appearance at Francis Field this year. The game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

The meeting of these ancient foes is expected to be a gala event, despite the fact that the invading Tigers are favored to win overwhelmingly. The Pikers always have a way of bracing for a battle with "Missouri," and tomorrow's engagement should be no exception. The Tigers have let it become known that they regard the Pikers as easy victims and that they intend to use a number of second-string players to oppose them. Goaded by the contempt of their ancient foe, the Pikers are fighting mad and determined to resist the Tiger to the last ditch. All of which should make for a good scrap.

Muscle by student bands, stunts between halves and several cheering features are expected to add to the excitement of the occasion. At least two local players are expected to give an excellent account of themselves. These are Alfred "Buddy" Cantwell, captain of the team, and Oscar Claypool, star halfback, who will be making their last appearance in Piker uniforms on Francis Field. Cantwell will be playing under a handicap, for he has been moved from his regular berth at center to play as end in place of the injured Gosseling. Both men deserve credit for their records as members of the team. Cantwell has been playing as center rush for three years in spite of the fact that he weighs less than 160 pounds and was always one of the lightest linemen in the Valley. Claypool, although severely injured several times, has never let his gridiron misfortune discourage him.

There will be a big football and homecoming mass meeting at Francis Gymnasium at 8 o'clock tonight. Short talks will be made by Chancellor Hadley, the coaches and Capt. Cantwell.

Two Men Injured. Twenty-seven members of the Missouri squad, accompanied by Coaches W. C. Dupke and Allen Lincoln and Director of Athletics C. L. Brewer, left Columbia shortly after noon today for St. Louis. Gwynn Henry, head coach, left at the same time for Lawrence, Kan., where he will look over the Kansas eleven, Missouri's Thanksgiving day foe, in its game with Drake.

The Tigers rounded out their week's work yesterday with another scrimmage against the freshmen, which brought two injuries which may handicap them in their showing against the Pikers. Don Faurot and Doss Richardson, the two Tiger punting hopes, were forced from the scrimmage. Richardson with an injured shoulder, and Faurot with another leg injury.

The game will start at 10 a. m.

For Twenty Years He Has Coached Central Eleven Without Pay

MIKE WALKER.

GEORGE FOSTER SANFORD, head coach of the Rutgers College football team, announced his retirement recently after nine years of gratuitous work. The world acclaimed him. He was one coach in thousands who might have earned a large salary, but preferred to work without compensation for the advancement of football and the development of young men. Where, the athletic world asked, was another such character in the game?

St. Louisans looked no further than Central High School. They found the Red and Black fighting for its eleventh championship in 20 years under the leadership of Mike Walker, a coach who has almost annually declined big monetary offers to leave his "prep" school and direct a university football squad.

Twenty years of highly successful effort which did not add one cent to his income as instructor in history at Central High School. That is a record which even George Foster Sanford cannot touch.

List of Titles.

Mike Walker came to Central from Knox College, where he had been a football star, in 1904, and immediately won the "prep" school championship. He tied for the title in 1905 and won it again in 1906 and 1907. He lost to McKinley in 1908, but won again for four consecutive years before Soldan defeated him in 1913 and 1914. He tied McKinley in 1916, but won a play-off game for the title and then followed it up with victories in 1918 and 1922.

Saturday, Central plays Cleveland.

St. Louis U. HIGH AND M'KINLEY TO CLASH TOMORROW MORNING

St. Louis University High School football eleven will oppose McKinley High at High School Field Saturday morning. McKinley is not scheduled to play a regular league game. The Junior Billikens have not enjoyed the success this season that they have in the past. While they scored a 12 to 0 victory over Cleveland, they lost to Central, Soldan and Country Day.

The game will start at 10 a. m.

Great Fighters Have Fallen Short of Titles While Dubs Have Reigned, Says De Forest

Famous Trainer Cites Many Cases to Prove That a Crafty Manager May Obtain Championship Opportunities for Mere Second-Raters.

NO 19 DE FOREST SERIES

By Jimmy De Forest.

Famous Trainer of World Champions.

EVERY now and then I am amused when some wise cracker comes along with the statement that "managers of fighters are parasites and should be eliminated from the boxing game." At these times I can't help thinking where Frank Moran, Jim Coffey, Knockout Brown, Knockout Bill Brennan, Al Palmer, Al Kaufman, Jim Stewart and numerous others I might mention would have "gotten off" if it were not for shrewd management.

Frank Moran made a fortune in coming into the ring with a dilapidated pair of old, heavy fighting gloves on. The Kid nonchalantly took his corner and waited for the action to begin, with the most innocent expression in the world. "Ye can't fight with them gloves," bellowed Peter.

"Sure I can," countered McCoy, and then the argument began. Of course, the Kid had no intention of fighting with "them gloves," but he kept it up for a quarter of an hour, then made a quick shift and before Maher had coiled out the fight began. Peter was so far up in the air that McCoy had him going before he settled down, and then it was too late. The Kid put over a K. O.

Sam Langford.

THERE are a million interesting stories about Sam Langford and Jack Dillon, both known as "giant killers." Of the two, however, the negro was far the greater when in his prime. To quote Francis Albertini, a former sporting editor, "Sam gave Jack Johnson merry hell" for 15 rounds in Chelsea, Mass. And by the way, Danny Duane put it all over Sam in that very same town. However, that was when Samuel was a little fellow.

K. O. Brown Made Fortune.

KNOCKOUT BROWN, the little ring anomaly, who, with his crossed eyes and peculiar "south-paw stance," actually was managed into victories over two world's champions by the astute Dan Morgan, also amused a fortune in the ring. Danny sent Brown against Al Wolkat when the latter held the lightweight title in a six-round bout in Philadelphia and "K. O." got the popular decision. He did the same thing a little later on with Abe Attell in a 10-round contest at Tom O'Rourke's Forty-fourth Street Club in New York City.

Al McCoy, who gained the middleweight championship by a fluke knockout of George Chip, was a "round" and thereafter became noted as the "cheese" champion, was a very ordinary fighter.

Bombardier Wells, who held the English heavyweight championship, was a boxer extraordinary for a couple of rounds, but thereafter—good night! A fairly stiff wallop in the stomach always stopped the Bombardier.

And now we come to that arch-joke of Pistonia, Joe Beckett, heavyweight champion of England and the biggest dub of a fighter that ever held the title. Shades of "Dan Broughton." What an apology for a champion!

Some Real Near-Champions.

AFTER considering these "pseudo-fighters," it is refreshing to turn one's attention to the "near champions" men who possessed great ability and yet never gained a title. In this category such names as Charley Mitchell, Joe Chynoyck, Kid McCoy, Peter Jackson, Sam Langford, Jack Dillon, Packey McFarland, Mike Gibbons, Les Darcy, Jack Root, Jack Everhardt, George Gardner, Mysterious Billy Smith, Kid Carter and—well, I'm going to try to name them all. Some of my readers will remember others not mentioned here—good ones, too.

Two of the greatest tricksters the ring ever knew were McCoy and Ryan. And I'll never forget that first battle of theirs out at Maspeth, L. I. That was one time that the sly Kid outgeneraled the wily Tommy. McCoy used to be a sparring partner of Ryan's, and Tommy took delight in handing out unmerciful whallops. The Kid brooded over these lambastings the while—he peeled potatoes at the training camp, and ruminated on revenge. The Kid studied Ryan's style, his peculiarities—every motion that Tommy made in action was carefully tabulated by McCoy. And then the Kid went away from there. Some time later McCoy and Dick Cook, a bookmaker, to back him and challenged Ryan to a fight.

McCoy Used His Head.

WHEN the men went into the ring that bleak March 2, in 1896, Ryan was a 12-to-1 favorite. But when they stripped for action, and Ryan got a look at the big Kid, who, by the way, had several pounds on him anyway, Ryan almost dropped out of his chair. But there was nothing to do but go through with it. And Tommy did, in the greatest manner. He took a terrific beating and it was not until the fifteenth round that the Kid put him out. Throughout those 16 rounds McCoy kept taunting Ryan for the beatings he had taken as Tommy's sparring partner.

They fought a couple of times after this, but Ryan, who really was one of the cleverest and headiest masters of ringcraft the game ever knew, never was caught napping again.

McCoy always was doing something to "get the other fellow's goat" and give him an advantage, even before the battle began. When McCoy fought Peter Maher at Coney Island, the Kid shocked Peter by

Six Title-Class Boxers to Show Here on Nov. 27

Champion Joe Lynch, Burman, Curtin, Moore, Wanger and Chaney Signed.

James C. Mullen of Chicago is the guy who originated the expression "hank the expense." But judging by the diamond-studded program of boxing events he has arranged for the Angelion Club's show at the Coliseum here Nov. 27, the expense is more likely to hang James.

On the card is one world's champion, one boxer who was champion by commission ruling—for one day, and others who have been trying to get a championship fight for some time.

Of five events, three are good enough to be "windups" at Madison Square Garden, New York, where they would draw houses of from $50,000 to $75,000. Rickard himself would probably not dream of putting all three matches on the same card.

But because the events here are of only 10 rounds' duration and because there is no decision given except in case of a knockout, foul or injury, Mullen has been able to group the three features on the same night. Some achievement in this sort, cynical boxing center, where "show men" is the blown-in-the-bottle stamp on every fan.

Must Take In Over $20,000.

Mullen's first venture here cost him $8500 for fighters and a total expense bill of about $12,000. His gross receipts were over $15,000, or about $1500, or 10 per cent. These statements are facts for the writer save the itemized accounts.

The Nov. 27 show will cost not less than $15,000 for the net "put" or overhead. To make it go, Mullen will therefore have to surpass his previous house by several thousand dollars.

With improvements and innovations contemplated, he expects the show to cost him close to $17,500. With war tax the receipts will therefore have to reach $20,000.

TWO SOCCER CUP GAMES PLANNED FOR SUNDAY AT HIGH SCHOOL FIELD

It is probable that two national championship soccer cup games will be played at High School Field Sunday afternoon, the Ben Millers and Trumbulls in the first game, and the Scullins and St. Matthews in the second. Official verification of this arrangement has not been received by Commissioner Barker from the national cup committee, but Barker anticipates no difficulty in obtaining permission for the double header.

Cup games ordinarily are played as single attractions. The Ben Millers-Trumbull game is a second round match. Both teams are Municipal League members. They played to a 1-1 tie score last Sunday morning.

Finnegan, former player and manager in the local professional league, will referee the Scullins-St. Matthew game.

O'Leary, at 82, Loses Close Race

No Evidence of Fatigue in Octogenarian After Walking Mile in 9 Minutes.

Dan O'Leary, 82 years old, the world's most famous advocate of competitive walking, circled the floor of a local skating rink last night at the rate of approximately one mile in nine minutes. Two professional skaters, Albert Cookson and Leon Fluke, working in relay, completed three miles over the same course before the venerable Dan had completed his mile. Thus, Dan lost the race but, in undertaking such a task, he won the admiration of between 400 and 500 persons assembled.

The time made by the skaters was 9 minutes and 50 seconds for three miles. O'Leary was less than one lap behind when Fluke, the second skater, crossed the line. O'Leary made 11 laps.

The remarkable thing about the performance was not alone the speed made by O'Leary, which the crowd highly appreciated since it appeared as if the octogenarian was as quick as the flying young men on roller skates, but the utter absence of signs of fatigue in the wisened old man. He seemed actually to profit by his nine minutes of exercise. His face was flushed a little and his breathing was rapid at the finish, but he was by no means "out of breath," nor did he seek a chair, although one was placed close by for his convenience.

O'Leary went at his task in a serious, business like manner. He took a score of steps over the floor for practice before getting away on the actual race. He marched in the regulation heel-and-toe fashion, with straight legs. He struck his heels firmly and stepped out with mechanical precision. Carrying his shoulders high, he swung his arms across his body, keeping them at the "thrust" position at all times.

FOUR KNOCKOUTS IN AMATEUR SHOW AT SOUTH BROADWAY CLUB

The earnest desire to exchange hard punches which usually characterizes bouts between amateur boxers, was in evidence at the South Broadway A. C. show last night when four of the competitors landed knockout punches on their rivals. There was also a bit of science on display for Eddie Gaiser maneuvered cleverly to defeat Ward Bennett on points in three rounds.

Frank Powers, of the Mullaphy Community Center, had much the better of Private Free in the early moments of their bout, but the soldier was able to weather severe punishment and finally crashed a right hook on Powers' chin, putting him out for the count.

The result of the bouts was as follows: 105 pounds—Steve Fitzgerald (Mullaphy Community Center), defeated Bruno Kresner (South Broadway A. C.), three rounds, judges' decision.

112 pounds—Paul Lang (South Broadway A. C.), won from Sam Schenman (South Broadway A. C.) on a foul in the first round.

135 pounds—Bob Hill (Rock Springs A. C.) defeated Werner Kraschinski (South Broadway A. C.), knockout third round.

155 pounds—Jimmy McCarthy (South Broadway A. C.) defeated Ray Roemer (Kenzie A. C.), knockout first round.

147 pounds—Private Ed Free (Jefferson Barracks), defeated James Mullaphy Community Center, knockout second round.

Private Stewart (Jefferson Barracks), defeated George Lennon (South Broadway A. C.), knockout first round.

158 pounds—Leo Nika (South Broadway A. C.) defeated Private Mike Telford (Jefferson Barracks), by decision.

Referee—Walter Helmer. Judges—Judge Robert W. Hall and Seneca Taylor.

Mid-West Tenpin Tourney Opens Here Tonight

Sixteen Missouri Pacific Teams to Start 16th Annual Event on Washington Alleys.

Sixteen teams from the Missouri Pacific League will open the sixteenth annual tournament of the Middle West Tenpin Association at the Washington Alleys tonight. The teams will roll in two squads of eight teams each, the first starting at 7 o'clock. While it is not expected that these teams will set any new records several of them have good chances to turn in good totals.

Tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock the first visiting teams will roll. Five teams from Chicago and one from Kansas City with two local teams will make up the first squad, and at 9:30 o'clock, one team from Chicago, one from St. Joseph, three from Indianapolis and two St. Louis teams are scheduled.

Appropriate ceremonies will mark the first night's rolling. The alleys are in splendid condition and 130 sets of equal weight select pins will be used during the tournament.

Tonight's Schedule.

ANOTHER DIVORCE SUIT BY MRS. FLOYD BROOKS

Couple Re-Married Last Summer
After Another Had Been Man's Wife for a Month.

The marital complex of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Brooks was further complicated yesterday when Mrs. Brooks filed another suit for divorce at Clayton. She lives at Valley Park and Brooks, who formerly was assistant prosecuting attorney of St. Louis County, is practicing law at Houston, Tex.

First Married in 1907.
A chronological list of the events in their married life follows:

The Brooks were first married in 1907 and lived together without a break for 23 years. So far, so good. In August, 1931, Brooks filed suit for divorce, charging Mrs. Brooks with having an ungovernable temper. A month later he dismissed the suit. The next move was made last April, when Mrs. Brooks filed a $20,000 suit for alienation of her husband's affections against Mrs. Elorine Wilson, wife of Hudson Wilson, a garage owner of Ferguson, alleging that a love affair existed between Brooks and Mrs. Wilson.

The court awarded Mrs. Brooks $7500 damages and impounded the property of Mrs. Wilson to satisfy the judgment.

Brooks again tried a suit for divorce, which he filed at Roma, but Mrs. Brooks thwarted him in this with a crossbill, on which she was granted the divorce and custody of her two children.

Brooks thereupon pulled up stakes in St. Louis County and trekked off to Houston. Mrs. Wilson, who had obtained a divorce, also went to Houston and news of her marriage to Brooks was the next development.

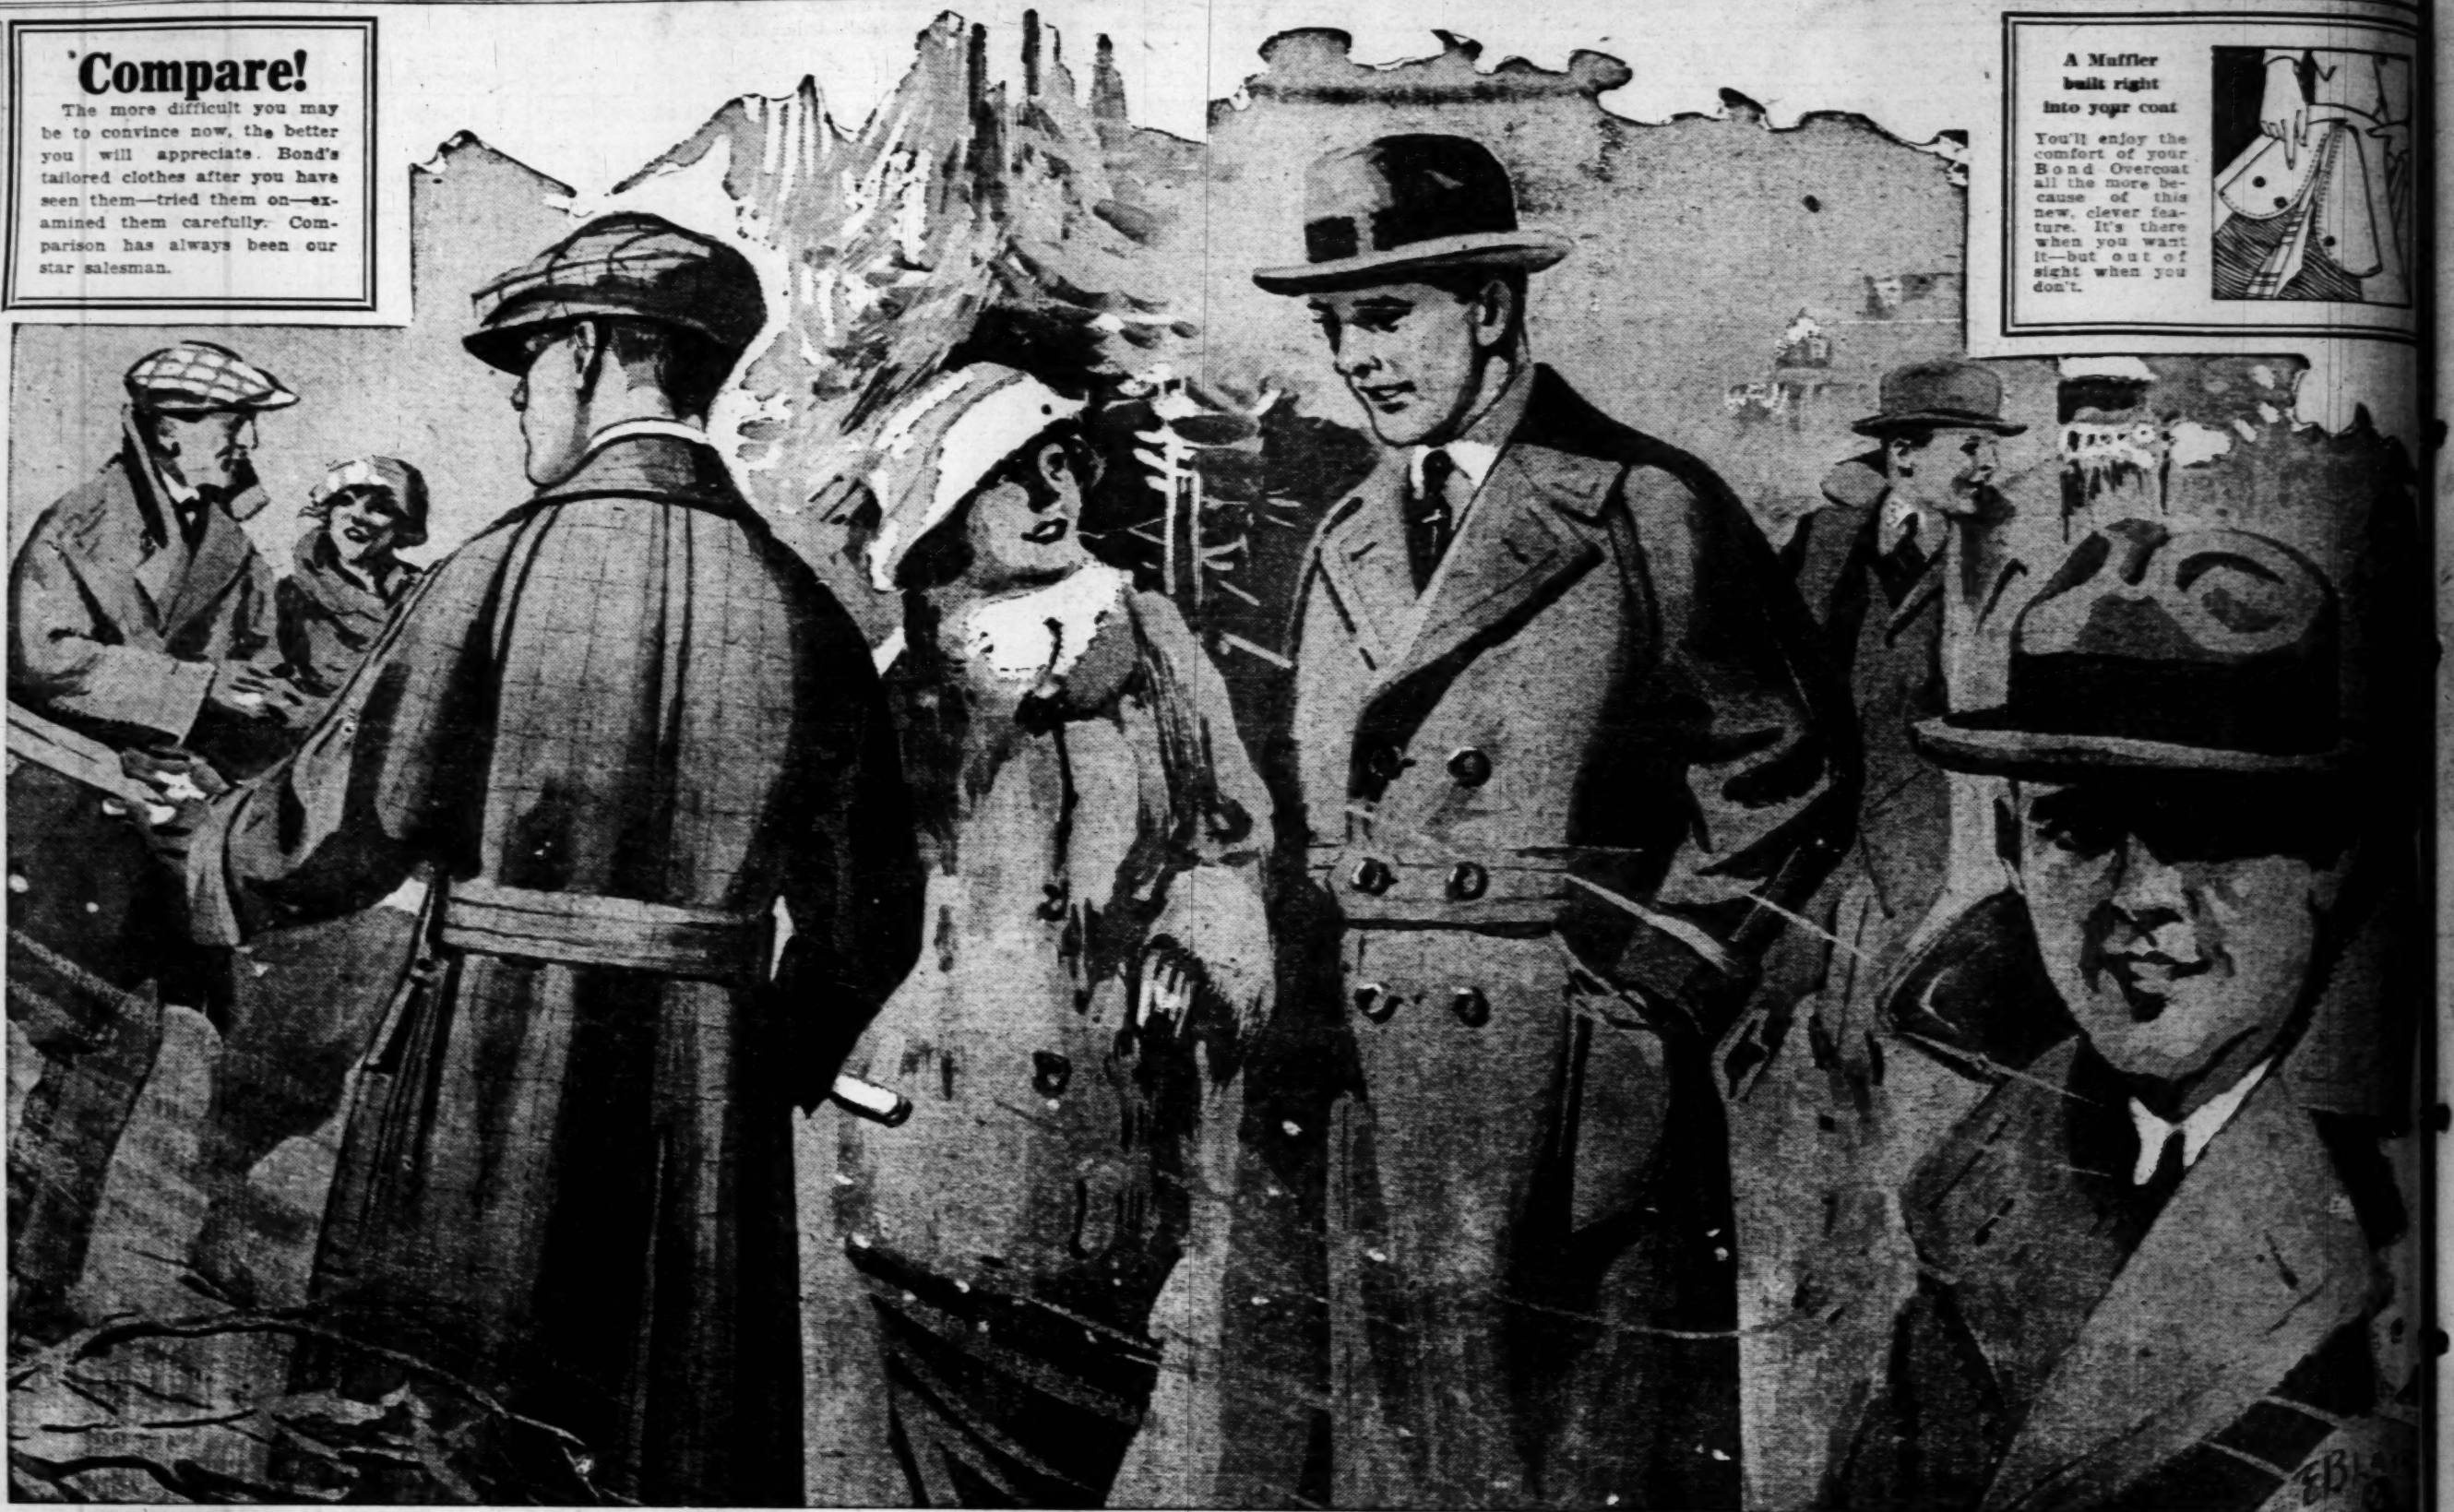

Another Wife for a Month.
The Brooks-Wilson affair was blasted within a month, and they were divorced.

It was not enough to let the matter rest there, so Mrs. Brooks went to Houston and became the wife of her former husband; that is to say, she remarried Brooks. But this was only pyramiding complications and was short-lived, and Mrs. Brooks returned to Valley Park and prepared the suit she filed yesterday. She alleges cruel treatment in her second venture with Brooks.

But the end is not yet. Mrs. Wilson is in California and has written the County Court to settle her affairs as quickly as possible so that she will have done with the whole thing. Wilson has left Ferguson and is on his way to California.

Compare!

The more difficult you may be to convince now, the better you will appreciate Bond's tailored clothes after you have seen them—tried them on—examined them carefully. Comparison has always been our star salesman.

A Maffler built right into your coat

You'll enjoy the comfort of your Bond Overcoat all the more because of this new, clever feature. It's there when you want it—but out of sight when you don't.

Wherever You Go There's a Decided Preference for Bond's Tailored Clothes

It is because Bond's tailored clothes are really better tailored clothes—for less money! Thousands upon thousands of wearers of Bond's Clothes know this fact. They know there is a decided difference between the ordinary styled clothes and Bond's "tailored in" style clothes.

The "tailored in" construction of Bond's clothes was developed and perfected right in Bond's own tailor plant—by Bond's own experts. These tailoring experts experimented and worked for years to produce a garment that holds true to its original style lines—despite wear and weather.

KING AND QUEEN WHO MUST TAKE A TWO MONTHS' VACATION

Knowing the temper of his people, he has reluctantly assented to the arrangement, though it is considered likely that he will never be permitted to return. The complaint is against the evils of the monarchical system, rather than against him, for he has been as inoffensive as any ruler could be.

Philosophical Phrasings

Let the reward of duty be duty itself.

Nature herself makes the wise man rich.

The best seasoning for food is hunger, for drink, thirst.

There is nothing more to be esteemed than a manly firmness and decision of character. We must like a person who knows his own mind and sticks to it, who sees at once what is to be done in given circumstances and does it.

The recollection of past labors is pleasant.

Good is to be sought for its own sake.

Apple Recipes

DUTCH APPLE CAKE.

Use rich biscuit dough. Line a baking dish. Spread a layer of sliced apples on top. Sprinkle with sugar and nutmeg. Beat the yolk of one egg, add two tablespoons milk and spread over top. Bake in quick oven. Use King apples.

STEWED APPLES.

Pare apples, cut them up and remove core. Bring a little water to a boil. Into this put the apples with sugar. One may add cinnamon bark and a few raisins to taste. Cooking time depends on kind and size—one half to one hour.

APPLE ROLL.

Make a crust of two cups of flour, one-half cup of milk, one teaspoonful baking powder, a pinch of salt, one level teaspoon of butter and one egg well beaten. Roll out very thin and cover with thin slices of apples. Make into a roll and place in a pudding dish. Set in boiling water. Serve with sweetened cream.

APPLE FRITTERS.

Slice apples and dip into batter made of two tablespoons sour milk, two tablespoons sugar and one-half egg yolk and pinch of soda. Add flour to make a batter a trifle stiffer than pancake batter. Bake in hot deep fat.

APPLE MUFFINS.

(Banana Apples.)

One pint of flour, one-half teaspoonful salt, two teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter cup of butter, half a cup of sugar, one egg, one cup of milk, one cup thinly sliced apples. Bake in muffin pans in quick oven.

BAVARIAN TOAST.

Take thick slices of stale bread, make an opening in the slices with a sharp knife, fill in with well-seasoned apple sauce, dip in a batter made from one egg, tablespoonful of flour and three tablespoonfuls of milk. Fry in butter or oil, the same as for French toast. Sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

Always you'll find that this is so: The hardest word to say is "No." —Old Mother Nature.

"Are you crazy, Danny Meadow Mouse?" she demanded sharply.

wouldn't trust it a minute. It might not bring you back next time."

"But there won't be any next time," Danny insisted. "It can't fly of itself. It can only fly when there is a man in it, and there isn't a man anywhere in sight now. We can go over there and get the most wonderful breakfast and be back before that man comes."

But timid Nanny wouldn't listen to it. She wouldn't even let Danny go by himself. "We have plenty to eat right here," she declared. "Flying may be all very well for birds, but it was never intended that Meadow Mice should fly. It makes me shiver all over just to think of such a thing. And I don't intend to run any risk of having to fly."

"Pooh!" said Danny. "Flying is great fun. You can have no idea how big the Great World is until you fly. But going over there to get breakfast doesn't mean that you have got to fly. Come on, Nanny, let's do it just this once."

But though Danny teased and begged, Nanny wouldn't go and she wouldn't let him go. So finally, with a little sigh of disappointment, Danny tried to forget the good things to eat that he knew were in the man-bird. But, just the same, Nanny didn't allow him to get out of her sight once all that day.

YOUR HEALTH
UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM NEW YORK
MEMBER COMMISSIONER OF HEALTH, NEW YORK CITY

It is time to give you a warning about influenza. I hope you won't get it and that it may be years before another epidemic comes to plague the world.

We are never free from this disease. In every community at all times of the year influenza can be found. But after Thanksgiving until early next spring you will hear of lots of cases. During the late autumn there were a good many prominent persons ill with this uncomfortable disease.

Influenza is different from a common cold. It is due, we assume, to a specific germ, capable of setting up in the body a definite chain of symptoms. While these begin like the ordinary cold, they end up with a much more severe disturbance, upon which may be grafted pneumonia.

The trouble with most persons is that they do not consider it worth while to stay home and nurse an ailment which may prove to be a simple cold. The fact is, however, that we are foolish to neglect the early symptoms of what may be a serious and even a fatal disease.

Bear in mind all the time that the nasal and mouth secretions of a person having a cold or the influenza are filled with germs. These are capable of producing the same disease in another who comes in contact with these infected secretions.

The secret of avoiding influenza may be told in two sentences: Maintain your powers of resistance by living a normal and hygienic life.

Avoid contact with the secretions of a diseased person. Sneezing, coughing, loud talking, spitting, careless nose blowing—by these means the germs of disease are widely scattered. If you come within range of the germ-infested moisture you are in danger of infection. Eating utensils, toilet articles and soiled hands are capable of carrying the infection.

You should never sit down to eat a meal without washing your hands with soap and water. You should never take food from dishes which have not been washed in hot water and soap.

Before greeting and especially kissing your family, wash your face with soap and water. Wash out the

In His Glory

With a steaming bowl of Ralston

Nature's best exhibit—a healthy child in the full enjoyment of eating. Happy, smiling boy, his stout little heart is glad when he picks up the spoon to eat his dish of Ralston. The flavor he loves and the nourishment he needs—both are in Ralston, the whole wheat cereal. Sturdy, sound, red cheeked and bright eyed, he finds in its iron and vitamins the wholesomeness that builds. Mother gives him all he wants, with plenty of milk or cream, not just because he likes it but because she knows it is best for him.

Ralston, the Whole Wheat Cereal, comes only in the famous checkerboard package. Get it from your grocer today.

Chipso— a surprising new form of soap for a new-fashioned washday

WHEN experienced women say "Chipso is the finest form of soap I have ever used in my life," you must know that something very unusual has happened. Chipso is a sensation—no other word can describe it.

After years of dreary washdays, of fuming tubs and drudgery, Chipso comes with the white magic of its electric suds—and a new washday is here.

New? Yes, Chipso is new! But it is not an experiment. Thousands of women are using Chipso every day—not only for its help towards brilliant laundry results, but for its convenience and safe effectiveness in all kinds of household cleaning; dishes, woodwork, floors.

And with all its advantages, it is economical! The price of the big blue-and-orange package will tell you that!

Remember—whether you boil, soak, or use a washing machine, Chipso and water are all you need! Snow-white Chipso dissolves instantly—no powder or fumes to make you sneeze. A few whisks with your hand, or a few revolutions of the washing machine, and Chipso expands into a sudsy mountain of magic bubbles.

Do your washing by your usual method; but do it with Chipso—quicker—easier—better!

THE CUP THAT CHEERS, ETC.

A KENTUCKIAN went to Colorado to attend a convention. In the town where the convention was being held he bumped into a native of his home county, now living in the West. It was the first meeting between the two for a good many years.

"Well, Jim," said the delegate, after the first greetings, "how are you getting along?"

The question seemed superfluous, for Jim was shabby, down-at-the-heels, out-at-the-elbows, and generally of a woe-begone aspect. Still, he answered. "I'm laughing a hollow laugh."

"I reckon nobody ever had such sorry luck as I've had," he confessed. "My wife's been a confirmed invalid for years. I put every cent
I had in a new business and she busted up on me and left me flat broke, and I've been flat broke ever since. My oldest son ain't worth shucks and the youngest one's not much better. There's a big difference between me and my brother Jake back home. Last I heard of him he was rolling in money. I wish if you see him when you get back that you'd tell him that if ever he is going to do anything for his unfortunate brother Jim, this is the time for him to do it, because right now $50 in cash would look big as a house to me."

"I'll make a point of doing it," said the visitor. "But look here, Jim, I've got a full quart of 15-year-old bourbon upstairs here in my grip—be kind they used to distill in the old State before those dazzled prohibitionists grabbed hold of things. Come on up to my room with me and we'll sample it."

The down-and-out went. He sighed deeply as he gazed on his well-filled glass.

"Makes me think of happy days," he said, as with one practiced gulp he downed the drink.

"Henry," he remarked after a minute or so, "maybe I exaggerated a little bit awhile ago. The trouble with me is I've been brooding so much that I get downright melancholic sometimes. Now, of course, my wife is puny, but then it begins to look like she might get better before long."

He held out his glass to be replenished. The second sample put a sparkle into his dulled eye. He continued:

"She's been taking some medicine lately that seemed to help her a right smart. And when I come to think about it, I ain't so sorry I busted up in business. I never did care much for the line I was in and being out of it has sort of given me a chance to look around. Probably next time I get a fresh start I won't make any mistakes. And you know yourself how young ones are—both of my boys are liable to come out of the kinks before you know it. If you see my brother Jake when you get back home you tell him that you saw Jim out here and that Jim is getting along about as well as could be expected."

Half an hour passed. The bottle was almost half emptied. With an effort the expatriate raised himself to his feet. His eyes gleamed, his face glowed; he expanded his chest and reared back on his heels with his hands under his coat tails.

"Henry," he said, somewhat thickly, "when you see Jake you just tell him that if he needs any money or anything, all in the world he's got to do is just to draw on me!"

County League Leaders Defeated

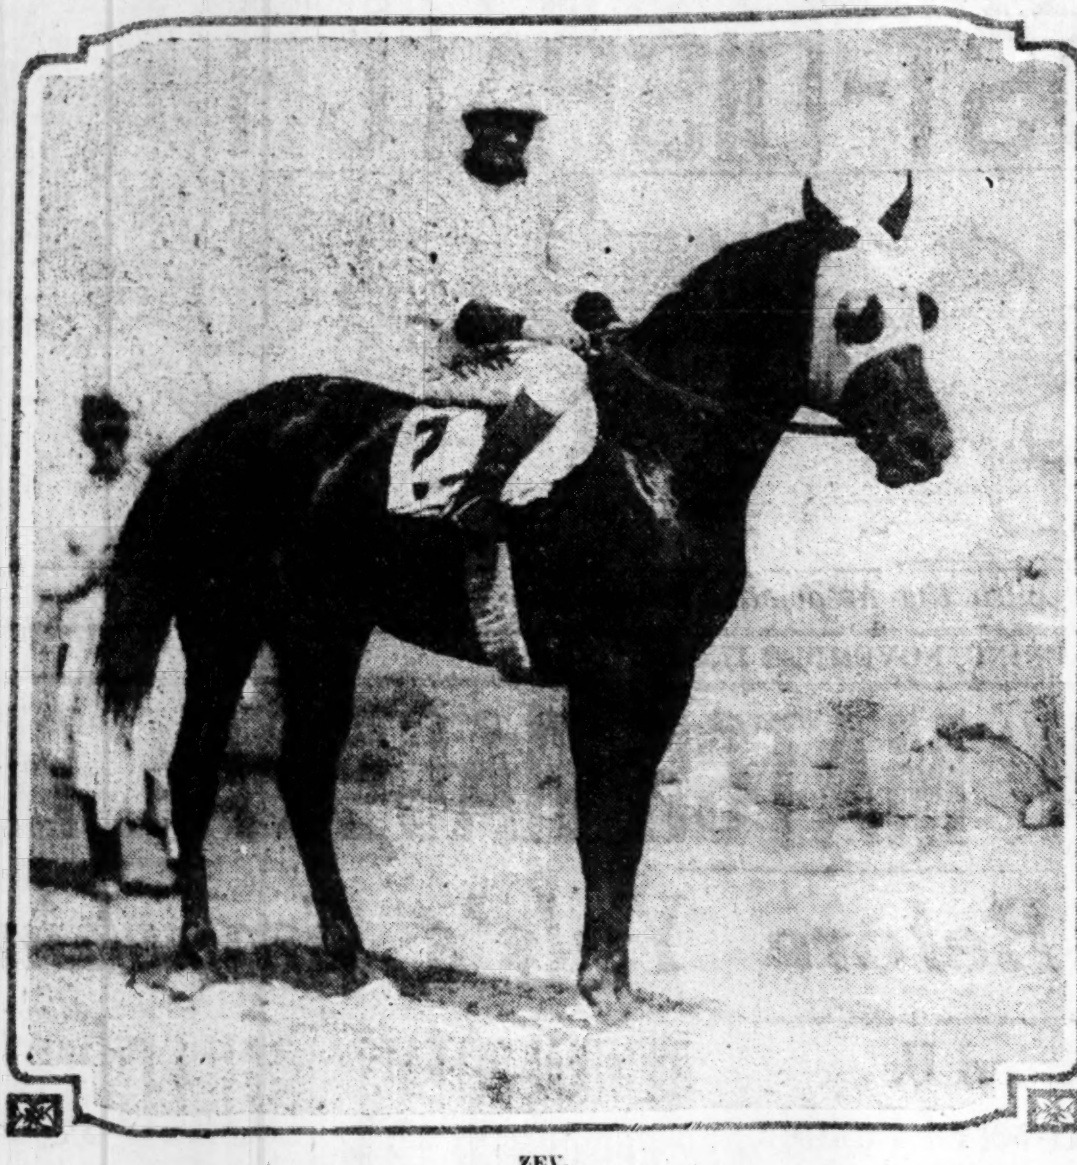

University City Wins From Webster, 6-0—Clayton Stops Kirkwood, 23-7.

Unbeaten leaders in the St. Louis County High School Football League suffered a distinct shock yesterday afternoon when they were defeated in games which they had been favored to win. University City defeated the powerful Webster eleven 6 to 0, and Kirkwood was beaten at Clayton, 23 to 7.

Connor's 40-yard run in the first quarter for a touchdown spoiled the chance of Webster for a perfect record. University City consistently outplayed Webster in the first half of the game, but as the whistle blew for the close of the contest, Webster had just lost the ball on downs on the University City five-yard line. Wallston defeated Ritenour, 30 to 0, and Normandy won from Maplewood, 14 to 3, in the other games.

ered the ball on its own 31-yard line. Stevens raced around end for 41 yards before Legasade caught him on Princeton's 26-yard line. Nieldinger replaced Neale. On Nieldinger's first run he advanced 14 yards and Yale soon scored another touch-down.

The touch-down was made by Nieldinger in three plays after Yale had a first down on the nine-yard line. Mallory made the point after touch-down, bringing the score to: Yale, 20; Princeton, 0.

At the end of the third period Yale had the ball on its own 26-yard line. Score, and third period: Yale, 20; Princeton, 0.

Yale punted on the first play of the fourth period and after Princeton had gained one first down by line plunges, a 20-yard forward pass helped put the ball on Yale's 28-yard line.

After an exchange of punts, Yale got the ball at midfield. Yale couldn't gain, however, and punted. Stevens kicked the ball down to his own 11-yard line and a long Tiger forward pass was intercepted by Stevens at the Tiger's 23-yard line.

Line plunges in which Silvey starred gave Yale a first down on the 15-yard line and another Yale touch-down soon followed.

The touch-down was made by Nieldinger on a 14-yard line smash. Stevens kicked the goal, making the score: Yale 27, Princeton 0.

A 7-yard line plunge by Venderberg and a forward pass from Silvey to Vanderburg put the ball on Yale's 25-yard line where, on the fourth down with four to go, a completed forward pass failed to make the necessary distance. Yale taking the ball on downs at her own 23-yard line.

Receiving Yale's kickoff, Princeton started a desperate last minute forward pass offense. One pass by Vanderburg gained 20 yards and put the ball at midfield, but the offense ended when another pass was intercepted at Yale's 27-yard line.

The Yale punter and the Tigers let loose more forward passes against the Yale substitutes, who now included "Judge" Landis, of Chicago, one of the baseball commissioner.

Yale finally took the ball on downs on Princeton's 19-yard line, and the game soon ended.

Two. Hannigan made it a first down on West Virginia's 24-yard line. Hannigan's pass was knocked down. Geraghty caught a pass from Hannigan after it had been practically blocked by Tiller. It was a first down on the West Virginia's eight-yard line. Two attempted passes were batted down. Hannigan failed to gain. St. Louis was penalized four yards for extra time out. Another pass was incomplete and West Virginia took the ball on downs. Tiller went through center for 24 yards as the game ended. Final score: West Virginia 48; St. Louis 0.

Fighters Have Advanced in Skill and Social Standing, Says De Forest in Final Article

Famous Trainer Believes Advent of "Gentleman Jim" Corbett Had Much to Do With Elevating the Game—Crowds at Ringsides Better Behaved Than in Years Past.

No. 20—DE FOREST SERIES By Jimmy De Forest,

Famous Trainer of World Champions.

CERTAINLY get a big smile sometimes when in the camp of a present day champion or other important fighter and have him beg me to cut off half an hour or so in the gym work because he is anxious to go to a ticker to see how his stocks are making out or because he has an engagement to purchase a new $5000 car or the like of that. And to observe generally how much of a king a star of the ring is these days with managers and promoters and the lesser fry all bows and smiles and courteous suggestions and gentle persuasions, whereas in the past—in my own clear memory of the past—it was so very much the other way.

Managers and promoters and old-fashioned backers used to get all the grays and the fighter all the rags and work. He was so often a simple-minded illiterate fellow whose only knowledge was his knowledge of fight and whose only other quality for success in the world was his grit. It is all changed now—very much changed, and certainly for the better—for the man who does the fighting is the man who should get the big reward.

DRAFT CAUSE OF SEATTLE WRANGLE
Decision as to Which Coast League Head Is Legal One May Be Up to Landis.

By John B. Foster.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The Pacific Coast League will come east to the general baseball meeting at Chicago in December with two presidents—W. H. McCarthy, who held the post in 1922-23, and Harry Williams, who was elected president at a recent meeting held at Avalon by members of the faction opposed to McCarthy's stand in regard to the ownership of the Seattle club.

The controversy hinges upon McCarthy's contention that the Los Angeles and Seattle clubs are owned by the same person, the inference being that that person is William Wrigley Jr., of the Chicago Nationals. McCarthy insists that this is syndicate baseball and illegal under baseball law.

The two presidents will lay their cases before the National Association at Chicago, and possibly before Commissioner Landis.
Behind this controversy there is something else—the draft. The Chicago Nationals, who condition where they may use the California club to develop and handle players freely. Under the rule in vogue in 1922, the National club could not send players to Los Angeles, unless they were subject to the draft. The Pacific Coast League would not accept players who were subject to draft, so that made a deadlock.
If Chicago were interested in Seattle, as alleged, it would have not only Los Angeles but Seattle to compete with.

Ghuzeman Attracts Favorable Mention
Eastern Critic Says Only Burman Remains in Westerner's Path to Title.

By Fair Play.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—At last there appears to be a real, roaring, tearing, ever battling featherweight in sight. He is Ernie Ghuzeman of the Pacific Coast, who has been opening the eyes of the Middle West fans of late. His real test the other night against Billie Levine in East Chicago is touted as a revelation by men who have no financial interest in the boy. They say he likes to fight and the fans know it from bell to bell. His bout in St. Louis, where he gained a technical knockout over Eddie Anderson, brought out some good features in his style.

Westerners say that the nearest approach to this fighting fool was Ad Wolgast, the Cadillac wildcat. Efforts are now in the making to match him against Joe Burman and if he gets by this encounter with flying colors he will set sail for New York, where it is predicted he will be as great a sensation as was Stan Ketchel. Burman meets Johnny Curtin in St. Louis on Nov. 27.

Billy Gibson should make much of Pal Moore, the "uncrowned champion." Gibson says he is going to keep Pal busy all through the winter, which will please the fans because no walloper goes better with the customers than Moore.

KE DEFEATED
KANSAS FOR LEY LEAD, 10-7

First Quarter.
Black scored early in the first quarter when Black went 24 yards in left tackle for a touchdown, kicked goal. The score came a series of successful plays by Black which netted several yards each. Drake made several downs during the period. Kansas was the consistent aggressor. It was Drake's ball on the 7-yard line when the period ended and first quarter—Kansas, 7-0.

Second Quarter.
The opening of the second period saw Kansas attempt a place kick on the 33-yard line, but failed. Big gains were made by both teams. Once making 16 yards through the side of the Kansas line, Drake fought hard for a touchdown when the half closed had added the ball to the Kansas 11-line. Score: Kansas, 7-0.

Third Quarter.
The teams took the offensive at the beginning of the third period and a hard fight was on. Kansas added three points when made a place kick from the 40-yard line at a sharp angle. Big gains through the line and full passes, one of them for 25 yards, made the kick possible. Kansas was gaining consistently during the latter part of the period, fighting through for long gains and ending the half to the Kansas 11-line when the ball was lost fumble by Lindefforfer. Smith scored for Kansas and raced 75 yards before he was downed.
